MINT.

The 25th August 1893.

No. 3714*A.*—In supersession of the rules published with Notification No. 1714, dated the 16th July 1873, the Governor-General in Council directs the publication for general information of the Rules for the receipt of gold bullion and coin in the Mints of Calcutta and Bombay and the Bye-laws of the Bullion Depôt of the said Mints hereunto appended.

J. F. FINLAY,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

RULES FOR THE RECEIPT OF GOLD BULLION AND COIN IN THE MINT.

General Rules.

1. The Mint is open for the receipt of gold bullion and coin between the hours of 10 A.M. and 3 P.M., Sundays and holidays excepted.

2. Gold bullion and coin must be tendered by the proprietor thereof in accordance with Form A or B, as the case may be, printed copies of which will be supplied by the Bullion Clerk of the Mint.

3. Gold bullion and coin brought to the Mint will be received by the Mint Master in accordance with the Notification of the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, No. 2662, dated the 26th June 1893, which is as follows:—

"The Governor-General in Council hereby announces that, until further orders, gold coins and gold bullion will be received by the Mint Masters of the Calcutta and Bombay Mints respectively in exchange for Government rupees, at the rate of 7·53344 grains troy of fine gold for one rupee, on the following conditions:

(1) Such coin or bullion must be fit for coinage.
(2) The quantity tendered at one time must not be less than 50 tolas.
(3) A charge of one-fourth per mille will be made on all gold coin or bullion which is melted or cut so as to render the same fit for receipt into the Mint.
(4) The Mint Master, on receipt of gold coin or bullion into the Mint, shall grant to the proprietor a receipt which shall entitle him to a certificate from the Mint and Assay Masters for the amount of rupees to be given in exchange for such coin or bullion payable at the General (Reserve) Treasury, Calcutta or Bombay. Such certificates shall be payable at the General Treasury after such lapse of time from the issue thereof as the Comptroller-General may fix from time to time."

Rules relating to Sovereigns and Half-Sovereigns.

4. Sovereigns and half-sovereigns coined at the Royal Mint, or any authorized branch thereof, will be received at the Mint by weight, but without melting or assay, whether they are above or below current weight. The charge of one-fourth per mille for melting will accordingly not be made in the case of these coins.

5. On arrival at the Mint, such coin will be taken to the Bullion Clerk of the Mint for examination, weighment, and registry.

6. On delivery of such coins into the Mint, the Mint Master will give the proprietor a certificate in Form C. A notice will be hung up in the bullion office indicating the period after which such certificate will be payable at the General (Reserve) Treasury.

Rules relating to Gold Bullion and Coin other than Sovereigns and Half-Sovereigns.

7. Gold bullion and coin, other than sovereigns and half-sovereigns (hereinafter called gold bullion), tendered at the Mint must on arrival be taken to the bullion depôt of the Mint where it will remain in deposit until it is required for melting.

8. Gold bullion must be melted in the melting room of the Mint under the superintendence of the Mint melting establishment to render the same fit for receipt into the Mint.

9. Gold bullion will be melted and otherwise dealt with in accordance with the bye-laws of the Mint bullion depôt annexed to these rules. After the gold bullion has been melted, the resulting ingots will be taken for weighment and registry to the First Assistant to the Mint Master in the bullion office of the Mint, on whose weighment it is received into the Mint.

10. Until such weighment is made, the gold bullion is in the custody and at the sole risk of the proprietor thereof, to whom every facility will be afforded for securing it in the strong room appropriated for this purpose.

11. The Mint Master, on the delivery of the gold bullion into the Mint, will grant to the proprietor a receipt in Form D.

12. Should gold bullion after being melted prove unfit for coinage, it shall be returned to the proprietor on his paying the melting charge specified in paragraph 3 of Government of India Notification No. 2662, dated the 26th June 1893, and a fee of Rs. 4 for each assay if the gold was subjected to assay.

13. On completion of melting and assay, the Mint Master will deliver to the proprietor a certificate in Form E from the Mint and Assay Masters on his surrendering the receipt in Form D given to him under rule II. A notice will be hung up in the bullion office indicating the period after which such certificate will be payable at the General (Reserve) Treasury.

14. The proprietor of any gold bullion who, being dissatisfied with the Assay Master's report of its fineness, wishes to withdraw such bullion can do so within twenty-four hours of his receipt of the certificate in Form E on prepayment of a fee of Rs. 4 for each assay and of the charge for melting, and on surrender of the said certificate.

15. Gold bullion in the course of receipt by the Mint may be transferred by the original proprietor to another on his signing a letter in Form F to the Mint Master notifying the transfer and paying Rs. 4 for each transfer. Such transfers will be recognised on the transferee re-tendering such bullion or coin in a letter in Form G. If the receipt in Form D has been already given to the original proprietor, it should be surrendered, and another receipt in Form D will then be given to the transferee.

Bye-Laws of the Mint Bullion Depot.

External.

1. All tenders of gold bullion and coin should specify either the number of sovereigns and half-sovereigns or the number of parcels of gold bullion and coin other than sovereigns and half-sovereigns (hereinafter called gold bullion), and in either case the approximate weight of the whole amount of the tender.

2. The tenders should be numbered in the order of delivery into the bullion depôt when all the sovereigns and half-sovereigns or parcels specified in the tender are brought in. When a portion only is brought in, the tender should be numbered after the delivery of the number of coins or parcels specified is completed.

3. The gold bullion and sovereigns and half-sovereigns tendered should be delivered by the authorised agent, who will see to the locking up of the parcels or coins in the strong-room of the depôt.

4. The tenders will be dealt with according to priority of numbers if the authorised agent be in attendance; if not, the next in succession, having an agent in attendance, will be taken in hand. The order of succession only applies to gold taken out for melting.

5. Importers sending two or more invoices of gold bullion with only one tender are to understand that their agents alone will be responsible for keeping the gold bullion belonging to each invoice separate; but if the gold bullion of each invoice be separately tendered, care will be taken to keep each parcel distinct.

6. Proprietors are distinctly to understand that their agents are to satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of the weighments in the bullion office of their sovereigns and half-sovereigns and of their gold bullion after melting. If the proprietors' agent should observe anything either in the beam or in the method of weighing that he disapproves, he should make it known at once, and every facility will be given him to make the necessary corrections. Proprietors must therefore look only to their agents for explanation if any discrepancy should occur between the invoice and the Mint weighments.

7. Registry of Bullion.—Proprietors' gold bullion, after having been melted and when ready for registry, will be taken into the bullion office; and after the bullion has been registered, proprietors' agents, durwans, &c., are to go out through the Mint gate at the warder's lodge.

8. The spillage resulting from the gold bullion will, if the proprietor wishes it, be carefully worked up, if possible once a fortnight, by the establishment of the bullion depôt at the risk and responsibility and on behalf of the proprietors, to each of whom an account showing the value thereof, obtained by proportional distribution of the whole, is to be rendered and the amount paid by cash or cheque on the Bank of Bengal / Bombay.

9. Passes.—All passes for gold bullion required to be sent out of the bullion depôt, whether gold spillage from the melting room or bullion rejected by the Mint previous to registry or withdrawn by proprietors, will be made out by the bullion clerk and sent to the Mint Master for his signature, and then delivered to the proprietors' agents for the endorsement of the proprietors. Thereafter the bullion will be passed out through the Mint gate at the warder's lodge.

10. Proprietors will not be required, in addition to the one-fourth per mille charged by the Mint, to pay any other charges, such as for gunny-bags or cooly hire, after the gold bullion has been once taken into the strong-room. Gold spillage will be removed at the expense of the proprietors.

11. Proprietors may have a guard at the strong-room door during working hours if they choose, as their treasure is in deposit at their risk.

12. Gold bullion once rejected by the Mint as unfit for coinage shall not again be received for the purpose of being melted without the special authority of the Mint Master.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

REVISED ADVERTISEMENT.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products.

Published under the authority of the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department.

The first five volumes of this work are now ready for issue, and intending subscribers are invited to register their names with the Superintendent of Government Printing, Calcutta.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Part I, II, and III of the Dictionary are now ready at the Office of Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets; &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal octavo pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI, which will consist of four parts) Part I contains letters P to R. The whole Work will, it is expected, be completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI) during the current year; but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a Glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

Improvement of Indian Agriculture, Report on the. By J. A. VOELCKER, PH. D., B.A., B.S.C., F.I.C., etc., Consulting Chemist to the Royal Agricultural Society of England, Royal 8vo., cloth. Rs. 2-8 (6*a.*)

IRRIGATION OPERATIONS OF CANALS IN BENGAL DURING THE RABI SEASON 1892-93.

No. 997*I*.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Irrigation.

Dated Calcutta, the 4th September 1893.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statements Nos. I, II, and III, showing irrigation operations of canals in Bengal during the rabi season 1892-93.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated during the rabi season of 1892-93 was 1,18,408 acres against 2,04,142 acres in 1891-92, showing a decrease of 41·9 per cent.

2. This falling-off was due to the exceptionally large area of rabi irrigated in 1891-92, which cannot be retained in years of ordinary rainfall. The area was, however, larger in 1892-93 than in any previous year, excepting 1891-92 and 1877-78.

3. The rainfall in eight districts averaged 2·02 inches more than that of 1891-92. In the three districts watered by the Sone Canals the fall averaged 33·36 inches against 17·31 inches in 1891-92.

4. There was no irrigation of rabi crop in 1892-93 from the Midnapore Canal, while from the Eden Canal the areas irrigated in Burdwan and Hooghly districts exceeded those of 1891-92 by 1,489 and 561 acres respectively. In the Sone Circle, owing to the increase of rainfall, there was a general decrease in the areas irrigated.

5. The details of the increase or decrease in the irrigation of the rabi crops from each canal during the year 1892-93, compared with those of the previous year, are given in the following statement:—

Order.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the statements Nos. I, II and III be published in the Calcutta Gazette and submitted to the Government of India, Public Works Department, for information.

It will cover in one enclosure an area of about 200 acres, including (1) a Palace of Fine Arts; (2) Several Halls covering about 120,000 square yards of ground, and intended for exhibiting Industrial and Commercial products, Machinery, Electric appliances, etc. These halls will be built of iron and steel and will be roofed with zinc.

A Board of Directors conduct the business of the Antwerp International Exhibition Company and decide all matters of Administration and Finance.

An Executive Committee under the honorary Presidency of Baron Osy van Zegwaart, Governor of the Province of Antwerp, and M. Jac. The Foreign Governments have been officially advised of the formation of this International Exhibition; they have been invited to appoint their official Commissaries to represent them.

Committees for furthering the objects of the Exhibition may be formed in the principal cities or towns of the world under approval of the Belgian Government, and with the co-operation of its Diplomatic and Consular Agents abroad.

Where no official Commissary has been appointed, foreign Exhibitors may be represented by a private Committee or its délegate.

All inventions, patents, drawings, models, trade marks, etc., exhibited will be placed under the immediate protection of the Belgian Government, and all rights of property in them will be effectually secured.

The Executive Committee will issue an official and complete catalogue methodically arranged and containing the name and address of each exhibitor, with particulars as to trade, place of production, etc. Foreign sections will have the right of issuing at their own expense their special catalogues and of selling them within their respective limits.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inches of rain has fallen.

Calcutta, the 5th September 1893.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M. SATURDAY, THE 2ND OF SEPTEMBER 1893.

AT the end of the previous week a slight residual depression remained off the Orissa coast for some days, and at the beginning of the present one was in the same position, but was somewhat better defined. It was not of sufficient depth to cause disturbed weather in that region of the Bay, and even in Orissa the only result was seen in light winds of abnormal direction and fairly general rainfall. On the second day of the week it had almost disappeared, the area of lowest pressure being transferred northwards to South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur, where rainfall became more general and moderately heavy for a day or two. Thus soon after the week began, fairly normal conditions prevailed over the greater part of the province, except as to the rainfall, which was scanty in the northern districts.

On Tuesday, the 29th, signs of the formation of a new depression began to appear in Burma. Pressure fell briskly not only in Burma but also in Bengal, and from that time till the end of the week there was a steady downward tendency, which gradually resulted in a depression of considerable depth. The influence in Bengal was very slight till the 31st, as the wind circulation continued easterly, and comparatively fine weather with light local showers generally prevailed, but while the depression was forming, very heavy rain fell in Burma, especially at Moulmein and Tavoy. On the 31st a shallow depression extended across the north of the Bay from Arakan to Orissa, and winds on the north-west coast became northerly, though everywhere very light. In the central and northern districts of Bengal rainfall was becoming more scattered, but otherwise there was no change. On the following day, the 1st of September, a further brisk fall of pressure set in from the east, the depression became better defined, and the area of lowest pressure was then in the north-west of the Bay; gradients were steeper in the south of the Bay, and south-westerly winds were blowing in Madras, the Circars, Burma and probably the part of the Bay between. On the last day of the week pressure fell rapidly in South-West Bengal and briskly over the whole province, and the depression appeared to be moving northwards. Heavy rain was then falling in Orissa, and showers were more numerous in all districts except Bihar and North Bengal, where, owing to the indraught, rainfall had almost entirely ceased.

Over the province, therefore, the most important feature of the weather during the week has been the scanty rainfall and consequent high temperature except in Orissa, where general rain fell in the early part and heavy rain on the last day of the week, resulting in the average fall being rather over the normal.

Pressure.—At the beginning of the week pressure was above the normal by nearly a tenth of an inch in the northern districts, about a twentieth in Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur, while in the Circars and the south of Orissa there was a small defect. On the second day of the week it began to fall slowly and continued to fall, at times slowly and others briskly almost without interruption during the remaining days. On the last day of the week, when the depression was over the north-west of the Bay, defect was more than a quarter of an inch in the area of lowest pressure, and more than ·15 inch over a great part of the province.

Temperature continued high in all districts throughout the week except in Orissa, where the average for the whole week is slightly below the normal. In Bihar mean excess is between 2° and 3°, and in the other districts between 1° and 2°.

Rainfall.—Fairly general rain fell in Orissa in the early part of the week and also in parts of South-West Bengal and North Bengal, but amounts were generally very small, and the average falls are much below the normal except in Orissa. The falls have been very light in Bihar and Chota Nagpur, the former receiving little more than a sixth part, and the latter only a quarter of the normal. South-West Bengal has received less than one inch instead of between two and three inches. The fall in East Bengal is 1·07 inches and in North Bengal 0·97 inch below the normal.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 2nd of September 1893:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 21 of 1893) that the danger reported in May last to exist off No. 2, Claremont island, and notified in Notice No. 18 from this Department, has been found and examined by Captain Heming, of H.M.S. Paluma, who reports as follows:—

"The danger is small in extent, and has 13 feet over it at low-water springs. It lies with the north extremo of Hannah islet (No. 2, Claremont), bearing E. by S. ½ S., distant 2 miles."

AUSTRALIA—Brisbane river.

Dredged channels.

The Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 22 of 1893) that a net depth of 15 feet now exists throughout the river between the town and the Outer Bar, and on the latter the minimum depth is 14 feet at low-water springs.

As the cuttings are only 100 feet wide, masters of vessels are cautioned to exercise great care, and to avoid as far as possible meeting another vessel in the cuttings, and to slow down to a low rate of speed at such distance from dredges and attendant plant as will ensure their passing without causing any damage.

The magnetic bearings of the line of lights and beacons at Eagle Farm Flats and at the Inner Bar are now—

N. 25° E. and N. 23° 30′ E., respectively.

The list giving the magnetic bearings of the different lines of leading beacons is to be corrected accordingly.

AUSTRALIA—Burnett bar.

Directions to enter.

The Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 23 of 1893) that the lights and beacons to lead in over the bar, lead across with a minimum depth at low water of 4½ feet. The tidal signals exhibited give the depth of water across the bar on this lead.

In addition to the abovementioned original lead, which is continued, the south channel has been marked and lighted, carrying a depth of 6½ feet at low water. These marks are as follows:—

An obelisk beacon—white with red top—placed on outer beach 240 feet S. 61° E. from light-house. Two triangular white beacons with vertical black stripe in centre placed on the sands off the North Head.

Directions to enter.—Bring the obelisk and light-house in line, bearing N. 61° W. and steer in, passing a red buoy on the starboard hand, until the triangular beacons, bearing about N.-W. ½ N. are in line, keep the latter in line, passing a black buoy on the port hand, until the beacons of the "Bar Lead," bearing S.-W. by W. ½ W. are in line, when they are to be kept so, and a vessel will proceed as usual.

By night a red light is shown from the obelisk beacon, which is to be kept in line with the main light at the light-house until the lights on the triangular beacons, the nearer of which is a red light, are in line. The latter will then be kept in line until the white lights of the Bar Lead are in line, when a vessel will proceed as usual.

By using this channel two feet more water will be carried than in the old straight lead over the bar, but mariners are cautioned that the leads take a vessel close to the outer beach, and that great care must be exercised to avoid getting to the westward of the second lead.

Reefs reported south-west and west of Dhu (D) reef.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 393 of 1893) of the existence of the following two sunken reefs in Princess Charlotte bay:—

Positions must be considered very approximate, and care should be exercised in passing the localities:—

1. A reef about a quarter of a mile in extent, with a depth of 3 fathoms on it, lies with Dhu (d) reef beacon, bearing N.E. (N. 45° E.), distant about 7 miles; and Bay hill, about E. ½ S. (S. 84½° E.).

Approximate position, lat. 14° 11′ 40″ S., long. 143° 54′ 40″ E.

2. A reef of small extent, with two pinnacles on which there are depths of 3½ fathoms at low water, lies with Dhu (d) reef beacon, bearing E. ¼ S. (S. 87½° E.), distant 3⅓ miles; and Sea (c) reef beacon about N.E. ½ E. (N. 50½° E.).

Approximate position, lat. 14° 6′ 50″ S., long. 143° 56′ 30″ E.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA SHIPPING OFFICE AND OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT THE OUTPORTS FOR THE YEAR 1892-93.

No. 2099Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 6th September 1893.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office and of the shipping offices at the outports for the year 1892-93.

The post of Shipping Master at Calcutta was filled by Lieutenant E. W. Petley, R.N., throughout the year. Mr. L. Namey, the Chief Clerk of the office, was the Deputy Shipping Master.

2. Owing to the extension of the Home trade area under Act VI of 1891, the receipts of the Shipping Office show a further falling off, as the several steamers trading to the Straits Settlements now included in the Home trade limits engage and discharge their crew on board instead of through the Shipping Office. The falling off from this cause has, however, been all but counterbalanced by gains in other directions. This result is due to an increase in the number of German steamers trading to Hamburg, whose engine-room crews are composed of natives, and to an increase in the number of steamers belonging to Messrs. Apcar and Company trading to China, as well as to more numerous arrivals of tramps or vessels that do not trade regularly to this port, but seek for cargo wherever available. The actual receipts amounted to

Rs. 31,450 against Rs. 31,993, while the disbursements were Rs. 21,376 against Rs. 20,318, during the previous year.

3. It is considered that the full effect of Act VI of 1891 has now been realized, and that the financial position of the Shipping Office has attained a condition which, considering the present commercial outlook, will continue.

4. There was a large increase in the transactions of the funds held in trust by the Shipping Office. These trust funds come under three heads, viz., "Ticket money," "Deposit money" and "Estates of deceased seamen."

The funds under "Ticket money" show a slight decrease of Rs. 288, due to a smaller number of seamen having allotted a portion of their wages for the benefit of their families. The cause of this falling off in the number of allotments cannot be readily ascertained, but it is believed to be the result of fewer Asiatics having shipped on sailing vessels during the year.

Under "Deposit money of British seamen" there is an increase of Rs. 27,715, mainly due to the Deputy Shipping Master, during a considerable portion of the year, having made it a condition in sanctioning the discharge of European seamen that they should deposit at the Shipping Office a portion of their wages as security against their falling into distress. This has caused additional work on the Shipping Office, as the money thus deposited is drawn out in small sums. It is doubtful whether any real good is done by this arrangement, and the question is receiving the attention of the Board of Revenue. The total amount deposited was Rs. 61,368, of which Rs. 60,061 represents the voluntary deposits of 419 seamen, the balance, Rs. 1,307, being the wages of 7 seamen, was deposited by masters of vessels on account of seamen who were either too ill in hospital to understand their accounts, or who, being about to be left behind in hospital or jail, refused to sign off the articles of the ships they belonged to.

Under "Deposit money of native seamen" there was a decrease of Rs. 1,840, due to a smaller number of native seamen having been left behind in hospital or jail. These deposits were involuntary and were made on account of 49 seamen.

The funds under "Estates of British seamen" showed an increase of Rs. 5,750, chiefly due to the receipt of some large estates of officers belonging to the British India Steam Navigation Company, who, in addition to wages due to them, had considerable sums deposited in the Bank. These amounts were realized by the Shipping Office and credited to the Board of Trade.

Under "Estates of native seamen" there was an increase of Rs. 2,071, due to a few estates of deceased native seamen of considerable value, which had been accounted for by masters of ships in the United Kingdom and elsewhere having been collected by the Board of Trade and transmitted to the Shipping Office through the Government of India. The increase is also partly attributable to the receipt of the wages of the whole of the native crew of the ship Danube, which is reported to have been lost, the amount being entered in the books of the office under the head "Estates of deceased native seamen."

5. The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged through the Shipping Office was 16,955 and 16,428 respectively, against 17,194 and 16,435 during 1891-92. Particulars as to the nationality of the seamen are given below:—

	1892-93.		1891-92.
	Shipped.	Discharged.	Shipped.	Discharged.
British	1,451	1,528	1,474	1,398
Europeans, Continental	548	380	441	456
Americans and West Indians ...	210	198	275	188
Australians...	13	16	14	17
Asiatics other than Indians ...	351	326	458	341
Indians proper	14,031	13,655	14,234	13,697
Eurasians and Goanese... ...	351	325	298	338
TOTAL ...	16,955	16,428	17,194	16,435

The difference between the total number shipped and discharged during the year is not so great as that in the preceding year, the figures being 527 against 759 in the previous year.

6. In addition to the above, the number of seamen of all nationalities shipped on and discharged from foreign vessels through their Consulates were—

Shipped	...	...	...	...	144
Discharged	...	...	...	...	112

7. There has been an increase in the value of money-orders issued by the Shipping Office during the year, compared with the figures of the previous year. The sums remitted during the current year amounted to Rs. 20,305 against Rs. 11,009 during 1891-92. This increase is due to a few exceptionally large orders having been issued during the year, and to the increase in the number of British seamen discharged through the Shipping Office.

8. The health of European crews in British ships continues to be good: 13,580 European seamen visited the port in British ships, of whom 16 died while on the river and 21 in hospital. Of the deaths while on the river, 9 were from drowning, 1 from heat apoplexy, and 6 from cholera. There was one case of scurvy on board the ship John Davie brought to the notice of the Shipping Master, but no action was taken, as the seaman admitted that he had contracted the disease previously on board a steamer: the attack was of a mild form. On inspection it was found that the provisions and water on board were good, and that lime-juice was served out regularly.

9. The health of native crews is also believed to have been good, but no true statistics can be furnished owing to a very small percentage of the sick entering hospital.

10. The Health Officer of the Port visited 813 in-coming and 684 out-going vessels. Seven cases of scurvy were brought to the notice of the Health Officer, one on board the Carrizal and six on board the Lyndhurst. They were taken to hospital and discharged cured in from 1 to 36 days. The provisions on board the Lyndhurst were examined and found to be good, and the lime-juice up to standard requirements.

11. Two cases of imposition on seamen were reported, and steps were immediately taken by the authorities to inquire into the matter. In both cases sums improperly witheld from seamen were recovered and paid to them.

12. Two complaints were made as to the quality of the food supplied on board ship. In one case three of the crew of the Leyland Brothers produced samples of the bread issued to them. As these samples appeared unfit for human consumption, they were sent to the Health Officer of the Port, who held a formal survey on board and condemned the bread. The master was thereupon directed to issue no more of the condemned bread, and to ship immediately a fresh supply. In February last four of the crew of the Ancyra complained of the quality and short issue of the provisions on board that vessel, but on enquiry the complaint proved groundless. A seacunny on board the S.S. Dictator complained of having been assaulted at Colombo by the second mate. As the complainant admitted that the assault was slight, the mate was simply admonished.

13. The receipts of the Chittagong Shipping Office amounted to Rs. 209, against Rs. 99 in the previous year. The increase is due to a larger number of seamen having been exchanged or transferred to and from ships in port, and to two ships which discharged their whole crews having engaged native crews in place of the Europeans discharged. There were no disbursements.

14. The receipts of the trust funds amounted to Rs. 13,902. Of this sum Rs. 12,986 were on account of deposit money of British seamen, made up as follows:—Rs. 4,727 deposited by masters as representing the wages of 23 seamen left behind in hospital or jail, and Rs. 8,259 deposited voluntarily by 60 British seamen. The deposits from native seamen were all voluntary, and amounted to Rs. 641 from 18 men.

15. The number of seamen shipped and discharged were 86 and 111, against 17 and 50 during the previous year. In 23 cases the seamen were discharged owing to their being in jail, and on this point the Shipping Master at Chittagong writes:—

"The increase of 22 men under the head 'in jail' may be attributed chiefly to the action of the Calcutta Shipping Office in prohibiting seamen discharged at Chittagong being sent on to Calcutta in search of employment. Consequently the men under reference, in failing to effect exchange of ships at this port, and persistently refusing to go to sea in their own vessels, had therefore, under section 83, clause 2 or 5 of Act I of 1859, to be sentenced to terms of imprisonment which necessitated their discharge from their ships at Chittagong ; and as under the jail rules offenders sentenced to more than a month's imprisonment are forwarded to the Presidency Jail to complete their terms of imprisonment, it follows that by violation of the law the men in question actually succeeded in gaining their object of getting clear of their ships, and of being sent to Calcutta at the state expense and not at their own, as they otherwise would have gone. I would also mention, regarding this subject, the rule is that no seaman goes to Calcutta in search of employment without at least Rs. 50 to take on arrival, the money being remitted by me to the Shipping Master, Calcutta, and in place of any seaman so sent to Calcutta, another man, who probably was penniless in Calcutta, is sent to Chittagong to replace him; the action of the Calcutta Shipping Office is a priori difficult to comprehend. Nor is this all; for, under the jail rules, seamen forwarded to Calcutta to complete sentences of imprisonment go in charge of a European policeman, and the state has as well to bear the cost of his passage to and from Calcutta."

The Board of Revenue are in communication with the Shipping Master, Calcutta, and the Inspector-General of Jails, Bengal, and a further report has been promised.

16. During the year 100 ships were visited by the Shipping Master to enquire into the health of the crews, to inspect provisions, drinking-water, medical stores, and forecastle accomodations, and to enquire into accidents and casualties on board. The results are said to have been generally satisfactory. The health of the shipping was bad in the early, and good in the latter, part of the year, and there were no cases of scurvy or disease arising from bad or insufficient food.

17. The admissions into hospital amounted to 37 against 41 in the previous year. There were actually 7 cases of cholera in the port, 4 of which terminated fatally, against 5 out of 10 during the previous year.

18. Hospital port dues were re-imposed on the shipping from 1st May 1893, and a provisional hospital for seamen of all races was started preparatory to the erection of a new combined hospital at this port.

19. The duties of Shipping Master at Chittagong were performed by Mr. E. Good from 9th June 1891 to 4th November 1892, during the absence on furlough of Mr. Warden, the permanent incumbent, who resumed charge of the office on the 5th November 1892.

20. At the Orissa ports, including Balasore and Puri, the number of seamen shipped and discharged amounted to 3 and 17 against 2 and 1 during the previous year. Of those discharged, 16 proceeded to Calcutta. The attention of the Commissioner of the Orissa Division has been drawn to the large number of discharges in the ports under his jurisdiction, and he has been directed to instruct the officers exercising the powers of a Shipping Master not to grant discharges unless on good grounds, as the result is to swell the number of unemployed seamen in Calcutta.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE INCOME-TAX IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1892-93.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE.

Darjeeling, the 9th September 1892.

RESOLUTION—No. 4343S.R.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the financial results of the administration of the Income-tax for the year 1892-93.

1. The principal administrative change that took place in the working of the Income-tax Act, II of 1886, during the year, was the amalgamation, for the purposes of income-tax administration only, of the district of Hooghly with that of Howrah, of the district of Bankura with that of Birbhum, and of the district of Manbhum with that of Singhbhum. This reform, introduced in accordance with the suggestion made in paragraph 10 of the Resolution on the Income-tax report for 1891-92, was carried out shortly before the end of the year under review. The result will be an annual saving of Rs. 3,948. Regulations were laid down by the Board with the approval of Government for the appointment and promotion of Assessors, which will, it is hoped, yield good results. In December 1892 the Calcutta Income-tax Office was removed to the new building in Dalhousie Square, and the separate Income-tax sub-treasury was abolished in consequence.

2. The following statement compares the financial results of the income-tax during the last two years:—

	1891-92.	1892-93.
	Persons.	Persons.
Number of persons finally assessed, including Government servants, who pay through the Accountant-General	111,160	111,858
Number of persons originally assessed, excluding Government servants	105,967	106,142
Number of persons finally assessed, excluding Government servants	103,176	103,894
Number of assessees, including Government servants, who paid the tax within the year	107,878	108,818
	Rs.	Rs.
Final demand of tax for the year, excluding that paid by Government servants and interest on securities...	36,82,269	36,97,623
Final demand of tax for the year, including that paid by Government servants and interest on securities	41,54,738	41,73,551
Final demand of tax for the year, including penalties, fines, and arrears of previous years	45,30,877	44,50,299
Collections of tax within the year, excluding Accountant-General's collections ...	35,58,380	35,84,774
Collections of tax within the year, including Accountant-General's collections ...	40,20,813	40,60,705
Actual receipts, including advance and excess payments and after adjustments ...	43,06,720	42,25,366
Charges	1,86,959	1,80,171
Percentage of charges	4·3	4·3
Net revenue	41,19,761	40,45,195

The net revenue shows a decrease of Rs. 74,566 or 1·8 per cent., as against an increase of 1·5 per cent. in the preceding year. Including advance payments and excess collections, and making allowance for various adjustments, the actual receipts at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 42,25,366 in the year under report, and to Rs 43,06,720 in the previous year: the decrease is in the collection of the arrear demand. The receipts on account of the current demand for the year 1892-93 amounted to Rs. 40,86,427, which is Rs. 23,540 in excess of similar receipts in the previous year.

Demand, collection and balances.

3. The following statement shows the original demand, the revised demand, and the percentage of collections:—

Year.	Original number of assessees.	Revised number of assessees.	Original demand.	Final demand after revision.	Amount of final demand collected.	Percentage of final demand collected.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
			Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1891-92 ...	105,967	103,176	38.07,251	36,82,269	35,58,330	96·6
1892-93 ...	106,142	103,894	38,17,869	36,97,623	35,84.774	96·9

The outstanding balance at the close of the year amounted to Rs. 2,48,747. Out of this sum Rs. 66,993 are reported to be recoverable, Rs. 65,267 doubtful, and Rs. 1,16,487 bad and irrecoverable.

4. The districts of Birbhum and Noakhali earned the distinction of having realized the entire demand during the year. In four other districts also this result was attained, but it was due to the Collectors having improperly cancelled in the last quarter of the year certain assessments, which should have been reported to the Board for remission. The collections on account of current and arrear demand, including tax, penalties, &c., were below 95 per cent. in the following districts:—

Muzaffarpur	...	94	Jalpaiguri	...	86·09
Calcutta	...	91·1	Khulna	...	82·2
Patna	...	89·8	Darbhanga	...	82·2
Purnea	...	88·08	Gaya	...	81·2
Singbhum	...	86·4	24-Parganas	...	76·6

In the 24-Parganas the low percentage of collections is excused by the falling off of trade owing to the bad crops of late years and to high prices, but the same difficulty appears to have been encountered and overcome in other districts. In Gaya, Darbhanga, and Purnea the poor results are ascribed to dilatoriness in assessment—a plea which serves only to shift the burden from one shoulder to the other, and affords no justification of the failure. In Jalpaiguri the unsatisfactory result is reported to be mainly due to the difficulty experienced in making timely collections from the tea-planters, but as the Commissioner points out, this difficulty has been successfully surmounted in the Darjeeling district, where the Deputy Commissioner himself took the work in hand, and where almost the whole of the demand was collected. Considering that in all these districts except Muzaffarpur the prescribed standard was not reached in 1891-92 also, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept the pleas of special difficulty in the year past, and must conclude that bad arrangements or indifferent administration are the causes. It is hoped that these faults may be corrected during the current year, and Sir Antony MacDonnell is glad to learn that District officers generally have been addressed by the Board on the subject of punctual and systematic collections.

Assessment.

5. The number of assessors at the beginning of the year was 52, or one in excess of those in the previous year. Three of them were abolished before the close of the year owing to the amalgamation already referred to. The number of villages (including streets in Calcutta) visited was 78,959, as against 74,566 in the previous year. This large increase is partially explained by a change in the system of classification of villages, based on the tables of the recent census, which had in Jalpaiguri, the effect of apparently increasing the number of villages visited from 566 in 1891-92 to 2,838 in 1892-93.

6. The number of persons finally assessed during the year increased from 103,176 to 103,894. Faridpur and Purnea, which showed an advance of 100 and 142, respectively, in the previous year, were again remarkable for an increase of 197 and 106 respectively. In Gaya the number of assessees rose by 155, in Burdwan by 137, and in Muzaffarpur by 120. In a few districts there is a falling off, but in no district, save in Lohardaga and Calcutta, did it amount to 75. In Lohardaga the decrease in the number of assessees is ascribed to the collapse of gold-mining operations, a dearth of food-grain, the scanty production of lac, and some other causes; in the 24-Parganas depression in the castor-oil and sugar-manufacturing business is made responsible for the falling off.

Objections.

7. The following table gives statistics of objections to assessment:—

Year.	Number originally assessed.	Number of objections.	Percentage of objections.	Number of successful objections.	Percentage of successful to total number of objections, column 4 to column 3.
1	2	3	4	5	6
1891-92 ...	105,967	12,388	11·6	4,513	36·4
1892-93 ...	106,142	11,640	11·	4,205	36·1

The percentage of objections was highest in the districts of Gaya (33·2), Muzaffarpur (24·7), and Puri (22·7). In the districts of Calcutta, Manbhum, Malda, and Darjeeling more than half the objections were successful. It is reported that most of the objections are filed either by new assessees, who in some districts consider it a point of honour to object, even though they may not eventually press the objection, or by the poorer class of assessees who keep no accounts and whose assessment must therefore be in great part guess work. The Board also state that in accordance with a suggestion in that regard made by Government some time ago, the Deputy Collectors in charge of income-tax in disposing of objections usually consulted the assessors and examined the grounds of their assessment, but the Commissioner of the Presidency Division says that he fears that in many cases the Deputy Collectors were satisfied with extremely vague reports from the assessors. The Lieutenant-Governor desires again to draw the attention of District officers to the importance of this matter. It is not possible that an assessor should in every case be able to base his calculations on exact figures, but he must always be prepared in case of objection to give reasonable grounds for his conjectural assessment.

Incidence of the tax.

8. The average incidence of the tax in the whole province was the same as in the previous year, namely, Re. 1 to every 19·2 of the population. Excluding Calcutta, the average incidence was Re. 1 to every 36·9 inhabitants, as compared with Re. 1 to every 37·4 in the previous year. Outside the metropolis, the incidence was highest in Darjeeling, viz., Re. 1 to every 4 persons, and lowest in the Sonthal Parganas and Cuttack, viz., Re. 1 to every 77 persons. In Calcutta the incidence was Rs. 2 to every person, against Rs. 2-8 in the previous year, and one person in every 39 paid the tax, as against one in every 35 in 1891-92. Throughout the whole province one person in every 684 was assessed during the year under report. In the previous year the proportion was one in every 688 persons.

9. The Board have reproduced the statement, which shows for the year under report and for previous years the distribution of the tax as between Calcutta and the rest of the province:—

* Figures not available.
† Exclusive of the tax on salaries, &c., recovered by the Accountant-General and the tax on the interest of Government securities.

From these figures it will be seen that during the year 1892-93 as much as Rs. 17,21,695, or 48 per cent. of the whole collections, were contributed by Calcutta, and Rs. 18,63,079, or 52 per cent., by the rest of the province.

10. The following statement exhibits the main facts in connection with the coercive measures which had to be taken for the realization of the tax:—

Coercive measures.

Year.	Number of persons finally assessed.	Distress warrants.		Cases of distraint.		Cases of sale.
		Number.	Percentage to column 2.	Number.	Percentage to column 2.	Number.	Percentage to column 2.
1	2	3	4	5		7	8
1891-92 ...	103,176	6,430	6·2	2,329	2·2	333	·3
1892-93 ...	103,894	5,559	5·4	2,400	2·4	362	·3

In Khulna, Singhbhum, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, 24-Parganas, Jessore, Purnea, and Hooghly, the proportion of warrants issued exceeded 10 per cent. of the number of persons assessed. It is noticeable that in six of these districts (namely in 24-Parganas, Darbhanga, Khulna, Singhbhum, Purnea, and Muzaffarpur) the collections were below 95 per cent., which fact tends to show either that the low percentage of collections was due rather to the unwillingness of the assessees to pay than to neglect on the part of the collecting officers, or else that the work of collection was not commenced sufficiently early, and that therefore coercive measures had to be undertaken to a large extent at the end of the year.

11. Under section 9(2) of the Income-tax Act, a small commission is allowed to managers of companies or other employers of labour who will collect the tax from their employés on behalf of Government. The total amount of tax collected in this manner was Rs. 2,47,918, as against Rs. 2,52,448 in the previous year, and the number of companies, &c., who undertook to collect the tax fell from 340 to 324 in the year under report. The largest decrease was 29 in Darjeeling, which is said to have been due to the fact that previously in several cases managers had been allowed to pay in their tax under this section and claim commission, although they were the only assessees in the concern. The continued decrease in the number of persons making use of this section seems to corroborate the suggestion that employers, especially natives, do not consider the remuneration offered sufficient reward for the trouble of collecting the tax.

Expenditure.

12. The total expenditure for the year, including the cost of contingencies and the remissions under Rule 13 of the Bengal Government rules, amounted to Rs. 1,80,171, against Rs. 1,86,959 in the previous year. In view of the remarks in paragraph 10 of last year's Resolution on the subject of travelling allowance, the further increase of expenditure in that direction in 1892-93, cannot be regarded with unmixed satisfaction. The Lieutenant-Governor is still of opinion that supervision should be exercised to prevent these charges increasing beyond the point when they cease to give sufficient return for the expenditure to be remunerative to Government. The percentage of cost, excluding contingencies on the total collections, is 4·3, the same for the whole province as in the previous year. In eight districts the cost exceeded 10 per cent., amounting in Singhbhum to the very high percentage of 24·3, and in Palamau to 15·7.

13. The system of payment of income-tax by money-order continued to work satisfactorily. In Saran, in five cases, amounts were remitted by telegraphic money-order. No serious cases of embezzlement were discovered during the year. In one case the prosecution of an assessor for the production of false accounts was ordered, but as the evidence appeared insufficient, the case was allowed to drop. Three persons were convicted for personating assessors and illegally collecting the tax.

14. The names of the Deputy Collectors specially reported by the Board as having done good service will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

The thanks of Government are due to the Board for their supervision of the collection of this tax, which is reported to be no more popular now than it was when first introduced: the people have, however, now become familiarised with it, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that even greater attention will be paid by District Officers during the current year to realise the tax with punctuality and system.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 8 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·6° higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF AUGUST 1893.

ONE of the most important features of the weather during July was the unequal distribution of rainfall, the falls in the northern districts being much heavier than those in the southern and especially the south-western districts, and the irregularity was accounted for by the frequent displacement of the trough of low pressure from its usual position (extending from Orissa in a west-north-westerly direction) to one much further north and close to the Himalayas. This arrangement was invariably accompanied by heavy rainfall in North Bengal, the adjacent parts of East Bengal and Assam, and at times in North Bihar. A second noteworthy feature was the absence of cyclonic storms, which, forming as they generally do near the head of the Bay at that time of the year, move across Orissa and keep the trough of low pressure in its normal position.

During the month of August, the weather of which is now being reviewed, divergence from that of July occurred in several important particulars—

(1) The trough of low pressure instead of being forced northwards has more frequently occupied a position to the south of what it usually occupies; that is, commencing from the Circars and south of Orissa, its direction has been to the north-west.

(2) Though, as in July, no cyclonic storms occurred, still on several occasions shallow depressions affected the weather in the Bay. These depressions were peculiar in one respect. Instead of forming near the head of the Bay, they either commenced in Burma or advanced from further east. Their subsequent motion was in an almost due west direction, and they therefore crossed the west coast near Ganjam.

(3) In consequence of the feeble character of the depressions and the southerly displacement of the trough of low pressure, rainfall has been very light and scattered over nearly the whole province. Only one district, viz., East Bengal, has received its normal average fall. Of the other districts the largest deficiency is in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur.

(4) As the sky was generally less cloudy than usual in the interior of the province, temperature has run high, and there is on an average excess of about 1° at nearly all stations.

In the early part of the month the general conditions were not unlike those of July. A slight disturbance which developed during the last few days of July was still being felt in the south-western districts at the beginning of August, but beyond the light rainfall, which became general over the province, its effects were very slight. In the Bay, however, the steep gradients which had arisen to the south of the depression were accompanied by strongish winds, and the sea continued rough for some days. On the 2nd pressure began to recover very slowly. It continued briskly on the following day, when the pressure distribution as well as the general weather conditions were fairly normal. A brisk fall of pressure setting in over the northern districts simultaneously with a brisk rise in Orissa and the Circars, the trough of low pressure moved northwards, and fairly dry westerly winds became general, but only for a short time, as another low pressure area began to develop over the Bay, while pressure rose in the northern districts. The shallow depression was never well defined, but it led to very unsettled weather in the north-west angle of the Bay, and over the greater part of the province. Pressure gradients were very steep, and remained so for some days during the second week—an arrangement which led to stronger winds than were experienced at any other time during the month. The recovery of pressure after beginning in the north of the Bay was, for some unknown reason, suddenly checked, and gradients, though not steep over the Bay, remained much steeper than usual over the province. Strong moisture-laden winds therefore continued, and rainfall became very heavy at first in East Bengal, and afterwards in North Bengal and Bihar. It may be noted that during those days the trough of low pressure was again close to the hills. Pressure recovered very slowly, and the strong westerly or south-westerly winds continued almost till the middle of the month.

On the 14th rainfall to a large extent stopped, and from this date onwards till the end of the month comparatively fine weather obtained, though light and generally scattered rainfall continued. The southward displacement of the trough of low pressure became the prominent feature of the pressure distribution, and the formation of the shallow low pressure areas in Burma and their subsequent westerly motion the only fact worthy of special mention.

During the third week of the month pressure was steadily above the normal over the province, and readings were much more uniform round the coast of the Bay than is usual at that season of the year. The only interruption to the fine weather which then prevailed was the shallow depression which first began to appear in Burma on the 19th. It was in the centre of the northern half of the Bay on the 22nd, being accompanied by a cyclonic circulation of very light winds, and on the 23rd the centre had crossed the Ganjam coast. The depression moved away to the north-west, but a very shallow residual low pressure area remained for several days afterwards off the South Orissa and Ganjam coast, causing in these parts light northerly or easterly winds. This residual depression almost entirely filled up on the 28th, but it at the same time moved northwards into the south-western districts of Bengal, where rainfall became for a short time more heavy and general. From the 28th to the 30th the trough of low pressure was in its normal position, and light general rain was falling over the greater part of the province, but on the last day of the month a slight depression had again formed over the south of Orissa, and rainfall was very scattered in Bengal.

Pressure.—Changes have been large only on one or two occasions, the depressions which formed having been more shallow than usual. In the early part of the month differences from the normal were very small, and the average pressure was very nearly normal. During the following week the largest oscillations were recorded, and about the 8th gradients were unusually steep. The rise on the 9th was ·16 inch in Orissa and the Circars, and more than ·1 inch over the whole of Lower Bengal. This rapid rise, however, did not extend northwards, and the result was that unusually steep gradients prevailed in Bengal for some days. These passed away slowly, and the distribution that followed was very uniform. During the latter half of the month readings were generally slightly above at inland stations and below the normal round the coast, and the shallow depressions which formed in the Bay were due quite as much to the excess in Bengal as to the defect where pressure was lowest. Towards the end of the month there was a steady fall at inland stations, and readings were again below the normal, though not to any great extent. Mean pressure for the whole month is uniformly above the normal by about ·01 inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the cloudy weather in the early part of the month, the air was comparatively cool, especially between the 5th and 12th, but after the 15th, when the pressure distribution became uniform, and calm weather prevailed both over the province and the Bay, there was considerably more sunshine, and temperature steadily increased. During the first week mean defect was about half a degree, but during the second it increased to nearly 1·5°. The rise then began, and by the end of the third week there was excess in all districts except North Bengal and Assam. During the last ten days excess averaged about 2°. The mean difference between day temperature and the normal varies from defect of 2·5° at Sibsagar to excess of 3° in the west of Bihar. Minimum temperature, on the other hand, is more uniform and generally high by about half a degree.

Rainfall.—The average rainfall for the larger divisions is below the normal in all except East Bengal, where it is exactly normal. The greatest difference is in South-West Bengal, where defect is 4·6 inches, or 36 per cent., and in Chota Nagpur, where it is 3·8 inches, or 28 per cent.; South Bihar also has received much less than usual, nearly 3 inches, while in Orissa and North Bihar defect is about 2 inches. It is only in the eastern half of the province, where normal amounts have been recorded, but the distribution was very unequal, as a large part fell during the disturbed weather in the second week. The large deficiency in the western districts is probably due to the weak character of the disturbances which occurred during the latter half of the month. The depressions which form in the north of the Bay generally pass through these districts, and cause heavy rainfall at the time of their passage. At other times westerly winds prevail, and the rainfall is under these circumstances of comparatively small amount. The number of rainy days, that is, days on which at least a tenth of an inch fell, was everywhere below the average by about 10 per cent. in the eastern and 20 per cent. in the western half of the province.

The comparison of the actual rainfall in the various large divisions of the province with the normal is most accurately and conveniently shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of August. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first eight divisions giving the actual average rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the ninth column gives the total rainfall for the first eight months expressed as a percentage of the normal rainfall for that period:—

Meteorological Divisions.	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	August.	Actual rainfall of first eight months of 1893 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa	422	309	238	89	607	99	67	84	145
South-West Bengal	120	464	160	115	225	183	94	64	133
North Bengal	104	377	145	213	96	100	166	90	121
East Bengal	80	291	123	149	207	134	103	100	130
North Bihar	170	357	134	208	84	100	151	85	118
South Bihar	116	602	188	255	171	156	122	74	124
Chota Nagpur	155	585	226	151	212	185	121	72	135

From the above table it will be seen that during the past three months there has been a steady decrease of rainfall by between twenty and fifty per cent. of the normal in all districts except North Bengal and North Bihar; that in these two districts there was a steady increase during June and July, but that during August it had again begun to fall off.

Excess falls were received in the south of Orissa and over a strip of country in the extreme east of the province, including Chittagong, Tippera, and parts of Noakhali, Mymensingh, Rajshahi, Bogra, Dinajpur, and Rangpur; also in Jalpaiguri and the Darjeeling districts. The only places where excess was more than 5 inches were—Buxar 20, Siliguri 6, Jamalpur 6·7, Netrakona 7, Fenny 12, and Cuttack 5 inches. Elsewhere falls were below the normal by fairly uniform amounts. Defect of more than 5 inches occurred in parts of the following districts:—Midnapore, 24-Parganas, Howrah, Hooghly, Nadia, Burdwan, Bankura, Birbhum, Malda, Kuch Bihar, Shahabad, Gaya, and Hazaribagh. In the other districts defect was between 2 and 5 inches.

Falls of more than 10 inches occurred in the south of Orissa, East Bengal, North Bengal, and part of North Bihar. Along a narrow strip running east and west across the province, and containing parts of Rajshahi, Malda, Murshidabad, the Sonthal Parganas, Manbhum and Lohardaga, falls varied between 10 and 15 inches, while immediately to the north of it, especially in the central districts, amounts were less than anywhere else in the province, and in places less than 5 inches. In the south of Orissa amounts varied from 10 to 16 inches, and in the other part from 4 to 12 inches. Over the western districts, except in North Bihar and part of Chota Nagpur, falls were very uniform, and generally between 8 and 10 inches. In South-West Bengal, where the greatest deficiency occurred, the lowest fall was 4 inches in part of the Bankura district, and the highest 16 inches at Saugor Island.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of August in all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years; the second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage; the fourth column states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied from the normal:—

* Mean of 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 01. rainfall the normal mean are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the subdivisional station district, viz. from total rainfall at the subdivisional stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one of

for the week ending Saturday, the 9th of September 1893.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, he corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inches of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 12th September 1893.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 9TH SEPTEMBER 1893.

THE weather for the past week has been unusually unsettled, especially over the north of the Bay, as during the first two days a depression of considerable depth passed from the north-west angle of the Bay across the south-western districts, causing heavy rainfall in its passage over that part of the province; and almost immediately after it ceased to affect the weather in the province, a fresh disturbance began in Burma. This second depression moved into the northern part of the Bay, and by the end of the week was advancing into the north-west angle following the track of the previous one and developing in a similar way.

The first depression was partly described in the report of the previous week. Up till Saturday, the 2nd, it was moving in an almost northerly direction towards the Bengal coast, and, but for a rapid rise of pressure, which set in from the north-east, and seemed to be independent of the causes, which led to the formation of the depression, it would probably have passed over the central districts, but when the centre of lowest pressure was near Saugor Island, the direction of motion took a sudden change, and the depression passing near Balasore moved at the rate of about 20 miles an hour in an almost westerly direction. The rise of pressure which thus began from the north-east at first caused very steep gradients over Bengal, and strong equally easterly winds over the whole province, but as the wave advanced very quickly, the distribution of pressure underwent a material change in the course of a few hours, and the disturbed weather as quickly moderated. From being nearly half an inch in defect at Balasore on Sunday morning at 8 A.M., and more than ·2 inch in South-West Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the north-west angle of the Bay, readings on Monday at the same hour were less than a tenth below the normal, except at a few of the extreme western stations. Rain was general and heavy in the south-western districts during these two days, but amounts quickly diminished after this very rapid recovery of pressure and during the two following days, but specially on Wednesday, the 6th, very little rain fell anywhere in the province, while the sky had become almost cloudless in places.

As the rise of pressure did not extend far south, the result was that pressure become higher in Bengal than over the Bay and in part of Burma. A second depression therefore appeared and its development was accelerated by a brisk fall of pressure in Burma while there was still a rapid rise in the north-western districts of Bengal. The difference from the normal on the 5th varied from excess of ·05 inch in the West of Bihar to defect of ·08 inch in the south of Burma. During the next two days small unimportant changes followed except in the northern districts, where a brisk fall of pressure caused a slight depression near the foot of the hills. This change was of some importance because it led to heavy rain at first in North Bengal, and afterwards in Bihar, the rainfall being accompanied by a large fall in temperature. On Thursday, the 7th, Jalpaiguri received 7 inches, and on Friday nearly all the northern stations reported more or less heavy rain. Meanwhile the depression was slowly developing over the Bay, and the indraught towards it kept weather fine and almost rainless in Lower Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Orissa. By 8 A.M. on Saturday it lay over the north of the Bay, the area of lowest pressure extending from Arakan to Orissa. Defect within this area was nearly a quarter of an inch, and the depression extended over the whole province, and the north of the Bay. The cyclonic circulation of winds was then very regular, squally weather was beginning in the east of the Bay, and showers were almost general in Lower Bengal, but the rainfall in North Bengal and Bihar had almost entirely stopped.

The commencement of this second depression was probably caused by the large increase of pressure, which forced the first one westward with such unusual rapidity, and the check to the southerly winds which came from the same cause must have led to the heavy rainfall which accompanied the second depression throughout its development and advance.

Pressure—Changes have been very large, and means for the week are considerably below the normal. Defect varies from a little under a twentieth of an inch in the northern districts to more than a tenth in part of Orissa. On Sunday, the 3rd, changes varied from a rise of ·08 inch in Assam to a fall of nearly ·2 inch at Balasore and Chaibassa. On the 4th there was a rise everywhere, varying from ·05 inch in Bihar and Assam to ·323 inch at Balasore. The rise continued with moderate rapidity in Bengal on the 5th, but there was a slow fall on the 6th, the greatest changes being at the northern stations. The fall continued till the end of the week when there was again a considerable defect.

Temperature—Was low in the south-western districts in the beginning of the week, and a rapid fall prevailed in Assam on the 7th and in North Bengal and Bihar on the 8th, but at other times there was excess, greatest in the middle of the week, when it averaged about 3.° Means for the larger divisions are all above the normal, excess varying from a quarter of a degree in Orissa and South Bihar to about 1° in Lower Bengal and Chota Nagpur.

Rainfall—Heavy rain fell in the south-western districts in the early part of the week and in Bihar and North Bengal towards the end. The rapid rise of pressure on Sunday and Monday led to fine weather over the greater part of the province, and very little rain fell anywhere on Wednesday, the 6th. On other days, with the exceptions mentioned above, comparatively fine weather was general with light local showers. South-West and East Bengal received less than half the normal, North Bengal about 60 per cent., while the average fall in the other divisions was above the normal, by more than one inch in Chota Nagpur and more than half an inch in Orissa and Bihar.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 9th of September 1893:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE EXAMINATION OF ENGINEERS AND FIRST CLASS ENGINE-DRIVERS OF INLAND STEAM-VESSELS.

1. Certificates of competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. For this purpose examiners have been appointed and arrangements have been made for holding the examinations periodically at the port of Calcutta. Certificates of competency granted to persons who pass requisite examinations.

2. The examinations will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined. Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon Form Exn. 3*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 3*b*, properly filled in, together with the candidate's testimonials, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination. Application how to be made.

4. Applicants will be required to produce in addition to the usual forms of discharge satisfactory testimonials as to sobriety, experience, ability, and general good conduct, for at least the last 12 months' service on board ship preceding the date of application to be examined. If applicants have served on shore immediately preceding their application, certificates of sobriety to be produced from their employers, or from a respectable house-holder if unemployed. No candidate will be allowed to be examined unless he has served on board ship two years within the last six years and six months within the last three years preceding the date of his application to be examined. Testimonials required.

5. As such testimonials and discharges may have to be verified before the candidates can be examined, it is desirable that they should be handed in, together with the Form Exn. 3*b*, as early as possible.

6. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seamen serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country, or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government. Testimonials of Foreigners.

7. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism. Certificate as to age.

8. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel. Foreigners to know English.

16. He must be able, if required, to show his practical qualifications by one week's trial in a steamer after fulfilling the other tests to which he will be subjected.

General Rules as to Examinations.

17. All books necessary for the use of candidates under examination will be provided by the Government, and applicants will not be permitted to take into the examination room any book, paper, document, or memoranda of any description whatever; and, subject to the provisions referred to hereafter, they will also not be allowed to work out their problems on a slate or on waste paper. Candidates not to take books, &c., into examination room.

18. Candidates will be allowed in the time allotted to cancel any part of their work, and, when required, additional papers will be supplied by the Examiners. These additional sheets must be attached to, and form part of, the examination papers.

19. In the event of any candidate being discovered copying from another, or affording any assistance or giving any information to another, or communicating in any way with another during the time of examination, he will be regarded as having failed in his examination, and will be turned back for three months, in the same manner as if he had failed in the practical part of the examination; and no part of the fees he may have paid for examination will be returned to him. Punishment for breaking rules.

20. If a candidate leaves the room before answering any question which has been given to him, he cannot afterwards be permitted to answer it, but the examiners may subsitute other data or another question. Leaving examination room.

21. All applicants presenting themselves for examination for certificates of competency as engineers will be required to give written answers to eight out of a list of ten questions selected from Form Exn. 15*a*, "Elementary Questions for the first Examinations of Engineers for certificates of competency." These questions are intended to furnish a record to some extent of the candidate's knowledge at the time of his examination, and also to induce the candidates to pay more attention to their handwriting and spelling. Questions from Form Exn. 15*a*.

22. The Form Exn. 15*b*., on which these answers will be written, contains also some questions as to the experience of the applicant, to be answered by him in writing.

23. Examiners may add to their viva voce questions on the practical management of steam-engines and boilers any of those contained in Exn. 15*a*.

24. If at the expiration of the time allowed the candidate has worked out correctly the whole of the questions set to him, and given satisfactory answers in the viva voce examination, he will be declared to have passed.

25. If at the expiration of the time allowed he has not worked out the whole of the questions set to him, but if the result of the viva voce examination, taken in connection with the answers to such of the questions as he has worked out, is sufficient to satisfy the Examiner that the applicant is competent to take charge of engines, he will be declared to have passed.

26. In other cases he will be declared to have failed.

27. A report of the examination, and the examination papers, will be forwarded to the Government on the Form Exn. 15. Exn. 15.

28. If the candidate passes, he will receive the Form Exn. 16 upon which the Government will issue the certificate to the candidate, whose testimonials, &c., will be returned at the same time. It is therefore important that the port of destination of the certificate should be the same on both the Form Exn. 16 and the Form Exn. 2. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the examiners should see that it is made in both forms, otherwise delay in the issue of the certificate may be caused. Notification of having passed will be given to successful candidates Exn. 16.

Fees.

Fees to be paid by applicants for examination.

29. Candidates for examination, in making their application on Form Exn. 3*b*, will be required to pay the examination fees before any step is taken, whether by inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, &c. No part of the fee will under any circumstances be returned to them; but should it be found that their service is not sufficient to entitle them to be examined, or that their testimonials are unsatisfactory, they will be allowed to present themselves for examination without paying any further fee, when they have fulfilled the requisite service, or are able to produce satisfactory testimonials, as the case may be.

30. The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. In any case in which a candidate offers money to any other officer, and in any place but in the Port Office, the candidate so offering money will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will be rejected and not allowed to be examined for twelve months.

31. If a candidate fails in his examinations, no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

32. The fees are as follow:—

	Rs.
Engineers	12
First class engine-drivers	10

Failure.

33. If the applicant fails in the vivâ voce or practical part of the examination, he may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of three months further service afloat. If he fails in arithmetic or drawing only, he may come up again at any time. Engine-drivers may be examined de novo after six months, if the past examination showed that they might reasonably be expected to qualify.

General.

34. Certificates of competency of engineers and first class engine-drivers shall be made out and issued in the forms hereunto annexed.

35. Every certificate of competency shall be made in duplicate, and one copy shall be delivered to the person entitled to the certificate, and the other shall be kept and recorded by the Port Officer of Calcutta.

1. Certificates of Competency will be granted to those persons who pass the requisite examinations, and otherwise comply with the requisite conditions. Forthis purpose arrange ments have been made for holding examinations periodically at the Port of Calcutta

Examinations continued till all the candidates are examined.

2. The examinations will be held by the Port Officer and one or more other examiners to be appointed by the Government from time to time. They will commence early in the forenoon, and will be continued from day to day until all the candidates whose names appear upon the Port Officer's list on the day of examination are examined.

3. Candidates for examination must make their application upon the appropriate form Exn. 2*b*, which must be filled up at the Port Office. The Exn. 2*b* properly filled in, together with the candidates' testimonials and discharges, must be lodged with the Port Officer not later than the day before the day of examination.

Testimonials of character, conduct, and ability required.

4 Testimonials of character, and of sobriety, experience, ability, and good conduct on board ship for at least the last twelve months' service preceding the date of application to be examined, will be required from all applicants. Applicants who have not served on boardship within the last twelve months will be required to produce, in addition to the preceding testimonials, certificates of a like nature from their employers, or if unemployed from some respectable house-holder. No candidate will be allowed to be examined unless he has served on boardship at sea or on inland waters two years within the last six years, and six months within the last three years preceding the date of his application to be examined.

Testimonials of Foreigners.

5. The testimonials of servitude of Foreigners and of British seaman serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Port Officer, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the candidate served belonged, or by some other recognized official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its own merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Government.

Certificates as to age.

6. Should any doubt exist as to the age of a candidate, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth or baptism.

Foreigners to know English.

7. Foreigners must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

13. The application of a candidate who is presenting himself for examination for a Master's Certificate must be made on Form Exn. 2*b*. Such examination will commence with the colour test; and if the candidate does not, at the time of making application, hold a Certificate of Competency of any grade, and should fail to distinguish correctly any one of the colours used in the test, he will not be allowed to proceed with the examination.

14. The fee he has paid for examination for a Certificate of Competency will include the fee for the Colour test, and, with the exception of one rupee, will in such event be returned to him.

15. A candidate for examination for a Certificate of Competency who, at the time of making application, does not possess a certificate, and who fails to pass the Colour test, may not be re-examined until after the lapse of three months from the date of his first failure. If he fails a second time, he will be allowed a third trial at the expiration of another three months from the date of his second failure. A fresh fee must be paid at each succeeding examination.

19. Should he ultimately fail to pass the examination, a like statement, relating to his being colour blind, will be made by the Port Officer on his existing certificate before it is returned to him.

15. He may also, when necessary, communicate with the Engineer in charge of the Municipal Pumping Stations in order to obtain pressure of water; and in case of a fire occurring near the river bank, he may call on the officer in charge of the Port Commissioners' Fire-Engine to render such assistance as may be possible.

16. On arriving at the scene of the fire, it will be the duty of the chief officer of the brigade to ascertain the extent of the fire; to see that the engines are placed in proper positions; and that every member of the brigade present has his own duty assigned to him. It shall be competent to the said Commissioner to require any private individual, who requires the services of the brigade at any spot beyond such limits, and within the above radius, to pay such fees for the attendance of the brigade as will provide for the payment of special allowances due to members of the brigade, and for general wear and tear of engines, hoses, horses, &c., and for such other charges as he may deem proper.

The Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 22 of 1893) that a net depth of 15 feet now exists throughout the river between the town and the Outer Bar, and on the latter the minimum depth is 14 feet at low-water springs.

As the cuttings are only 100 feet wide, masters of vessels are cautioned to exercise great care, and to avoid as far as possible meeting another vessel in the cuttings, and to slow down to a low rate of speed at such distance from dredges and attendant plant as will ensure their passing without causing any damage.

AUSTRALIA—BURNETT BAR.

Directions to enter.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 23 of 1893) that the lights and beacons to lead in over the bar, lead across with a minimum depth at low water of 4½ feet. The tidal signals exhibited give the depth of water across thebar on t his lead.

In addition to the abovementioned original lead, which is continued, the south channel has been marked and lighted, carrying a depth of 6½ feet at low water. These marks are as follows:—

An obelisk beacon—white with red top—placed on outer beach 240 feet S. 61° E. from light-house. Two triangular white beacons with vertical black stripe in centre placed on the sands off the North Head.

Directions to enter.—Bring the obelisk and light-house in line, bearing N. 61° W. and steer in, passing a red buoy on the starboard hand, until the triangular beacons, bearing about N.-W. ½ N. are in line, keep the latter in line, passing a black buoy on the port hand, until the beacons of the "Bar Lead," bearing S.-W. by W. ½ W. are in line, when they are to be kept so, and a vessel will proceed as usual.

By night a red light is shown from the obelisk beacon, which is to be kept in line with the main light at the light-house until the lights on the triangular beacons, the nearer of which is a red light, are in line. The latter will then be kept in line until the white lights of the Bar Lead are in line, when a vessel will proceed as usual.

By using this channel two feet more water will be carried than in the old straight lead over the bar, but mariners are cautioned that the leads take a vessel close to the outer beach, and that great care must be exercised to avoid getting to the westward of the second lead.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT DURING THE THREE YEARS ENDING THE 31ST MARCH 1893.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—SEPARATE REVENUE—No. 96T—F.

Darjeeling, the 15th September 1893.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Stamp Department during the three years ending 31st March 1893.

This is the second report submitted under the triennial system, statistical information with brief explanatory notes having been supplied for the two previous years 1890-91 and 1891-92. The revenue for the period under review was collected under the Indian Stamp Act I of 1879 and the Court Fees Act VII of 1870, as modified by subsequent enactments. The changes made during the past three years in the law and in the rules issued by Government, hough numerous and important from a departmental point of view, are not of sufficient general interest to call for special notice in this place.

Stamp revenue.

2. The financial results of the administration of the Stamp Department during the past three years, as well as during the previous triennium, are shown in the following table, the figures being based on accounts furnished by the Accountant-General:—

Year.	Stamps under Act I of 1879.			Court-fees under Act VII of 1870.			Total.

The gross average annual receipts under the two Acts during the triennial period under review amounted to Rs. 1,49,83,961, against Rs. 1,39,64,266 in the previous corresponding period, showing an increase of Rs. 10,19,695. The increase occurred in both classes of stamps—judicial and non-judicial. As in other years, the receipts during 1892-93 were highest in Calcutta (Rs. 22,96,940), which provided more than one-seventh of all the stamp revenue in Bengal, and lowest in Singhbhum (Rs. 17,890). Mymensingh and Dacca contributed more than 7 lakhs each, the 24-Parganas nearly 6¾ lakhs, Backergunge over 6 lakhs, and Midnapore and Tippera nearly 5½ lakhs each. The general incidence of stamp revenue on the population was 3 annas and 4 pies per head.

Stamp rules.

3. The following table shows in greater detail the receipts from sales of the different descriptions of stamps during the triennial period from 1887-88 to 1889-90, and the similar period under review. The figures which have been compiled by the Superintendent of Stamps, however, differ from those given in the previous statement, inasmuch as they do not include miscellaneous receipts under the Indian Stamp Act, or receipts from the sale of plain paper prescribed by the High Court for use with court-fee stamps under the Court Fees Act. They show stamp sales only; but apart from these differences, there is a small discrepancy, amounting to Rs. 19,632, with the Accountant-General's figures, which is under adjustment.

As compared with the triennial period between 1887-88 and 1889-90, all classes of stamps with the exception of Foreign Bill, Hundi and Notarial stamps, and stamps for copies, contributed to the increase in the sales during the period under review.

Non-judicial stamps.

4. The improvement was most marked in the case of impressed sheets, which are the most important of non-judicial stamps. Forty-three districts participated in this improvement, the largest increase (Rs. 18,000) being observed in Backergunge. The improvement is generally attributed to the execution of a larger number of documents, such as deeds of sale, mortgages, &c., consequent on the failure of crops in certain districts. The increase in impressed labels, which are in use only in Calcutta, is normal. There was an improvement of nearly Rs. 60,000 per annum in the income from one-anna revenue stamps, commonly known as receipt stamps, which may be ascribed to the facilities afforded for obtaining them through the agency of the post-office, and to the stricter administration of the law which had hitherto often been evaded with ease and impunity. A fresh cause at work was the action of the Board in inviting the attention of local officers to the standing orders under which assessors of income-tax are vested with powers to impound instruments not duly stamped. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Board will not relax their efforts to protect this branch of the revenue. Another class of instruments, on which the stamp duty is said to be frequently evaded, is the Hundi, the result being attributed to defects in the stamp law The clauses that affected the sales of different kinds of stamps in different districts are given in detail in the Board's report, and need not be repeated here.

Judicial stamps.

5. Under the head judicial stamps are included adhesive and impressed court-free stamps, High Court service stamps, Calcutta Small Cause Court stamps, and stamps for copies. The total average income during the period under review amounted to Rs. 1,05,65,344 per annum, or an increase of Rs. 5,23,393 over the previous corresponding period. The extent to which each description of stamps contributed towards the average annual revenue is exhibited in the following table:—

	Rs.
Court-fee stamps	96,72,718
High Court service	9,500
Calcutta Small Cause Court	3,50,440
Stamps for copies	5,32,686
Total ...	1,05,65,344

Thirty seven districts show an increase and nine a decrease. The largest increases were in Calcutta (Rs. 1,22,124); Nadia (Rs. 41,389); Faridpur (Rs. 40,702); Burdwan (Rs. 32,795); Rangpur (Rs. 25,399); Patna (Rs. 23,342), and 24-Parganas (Rs. 21,734). The largest decrease occurred in Howrah (Rs. 5,533), and Shahabad (Rs. 5,520). An increase or decrease in the number and the value of suits is the main cause to which the fluctuations in the sales of court-fee stamps may be attributed. It is significant that Singhbhum and Manbhum, to both of which districts railway communication has been effectively extended during the period under review, show a very large increase in stamp revenue, both judicial and non-judicial. Taking each denomination of court-fee stamps sold during the period under review, there was an increase of over $3\frac{2}{3}$ lakhs in the sale of eight-anna stamps, $1\frac{1}{4}$ lakhs each in that of one-anna and one-rupee stamps, nearly 1 lakh in that of four-anna stamps, while on the other hand there was a decrease of nearly $1\frac{2}{5}$ lakhs in that of twelve-anna stamps, Rs. 34,000 in that of two-rupee stamps, and Rs. 17,000 in that of four-rupee stamps.

Levy of penalties.

6. The following statement shows the number of cases in which deficient stamp duty and penalty were levied by the Civil and Revenue Courts, and the amount realized during the period under review as compared with the previous corresponding period :—

Year.	Number of cases.		Amount of duty and penalty realized		Total.

Average increase in the triennium under review compared with the preceding triennium	25	102	637	2,384	127	3,021

Prosecutions.

7. The average number of prosecutions instituted annually for various breaches of the stamp law was 646 against 815 in the previous triennium. The average number of persons brought to trial was 740 against 929, of convictions 584 against 739, and of acquittals 125 against 116. The average amount of fines imposed by Magistrates was Rs. 5,439 against Rs. 6,658. The average amount of rewards paid was Rs. 1,339, against Rs. 1,751 in the preceding period. The fact is brought to the notice of Government by the Board that during the three years covered by the report, not a single rupee was paid as reward in twenty-eight out of the forty-five districts in the province, viz., in the whole of the Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions, in four districts of each of the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, in five districts of the Rajshahi Division, in two districts of the Chittagong Division, in three districts of the Patna Division, and in three districts of the Bhagalpur Division. These results, as the Board remark, are not creditable to the district officers concerned, for it should be borne in mind that activity in the detection of evasions of the law must largely depend on the encouragement afforded by a liberal distribution of rewards, and where these are awarded with a sparing hand, it is almost certain that the stamp law will be broken with impunity, because no one will be at the trouble of bringing the offence to notice.

8. Several cases of fraud and defalcation were detected during the period under review. One of the most serious of these occurred in the subdivisional treasury at Bishenpur in the district of Bankura. Court-fee stamps to the value of Rs. 3,598, and impressed non-judicial stamps to the value of Rs. 32, were abstracted. The enquiry disclosed a defect in the system of keeping accounts and returns, and orders have been issued to place matters on a better footing. The greater part of the loss is being made good by deductions from the pay of those in fault. Another extensive series of frauds was disclosed in the Subordinate Judge's Court at Jessore, which consisted in removing both punched and unpunched stamps from the records, substituting punched for unpunched stamps, and misappropriating the latter. The guilty parties have been punished.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank the Board of Revenue for their careful administration of the Stamp Department during the period covered by the report. The names of the officers favourably mentioned by the Board will be noted in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The second Triennial Report on the Administration of the Registration Department for the years 1890-91, 1891-92, and 1892-93 has been punctually submitted by the Officiating Inspector-General, Nawab Syed Ameer Hossein, C.I.E. Mr. Holmwood was in charge of the Department during the whole of the triennial period, and he has left notes on points of special importance, which have been embodied in the report now under review.

2. The following table shows the total number of registrations, as well as the receipts and expenditure, and the number of offices open during each year of the triennial period under report as compared with each of the three preceding years :—

Decrease ...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	...

The most noticeable feature in the above statement is the steady advance in the number of registrations of all kinds during the last three years. This is attributed by many District Registrars to the badness of the seasons and the consequent scarcity, but the explanation is one which is brought up year after year to account for any fluctuations, however slight, that may have occurred, and is not sufficient to explain the steady increase in the work of the department. As pointed out by Mr. Holmwood, years of real scarcity have been marked by the increase of small bonds and mortgages, but the total number of registrations and the actual receipts have not been materially affected by them. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the true explanation lies in the growing confidence of the public in the Registration Department, which every year attracts an increasing proportion of the large number of transactions that may be registered to our offices. The increase in the number of optional registrations, and the opening of 29 new offices during the last triennial period, are indications of this. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the financial condition of the department is satisfactory, and that the surplus at the close of 1892-93 is larger than in any of the preceding years.

3. The number of perpetual leases registered shows a steady increase from 76,390 in 1889-90 to 82,251 in 1890-91, 89,024 in 1891-92, and 90,989 in 1892-93. The increase in 1890-91 and 1891-92 is mainly accounted for by the larger number of registrations of this class in Chittagong, due to the settlement operations in progress in that district. The increase in 1892-93 was not so marked, and in Chittagong there was an actual falling off of 1,553 in the number of perpetual leases registered as compared with the preceding year. The districts in which the greatest number of perpetual leases were registered in 1892-93 are Chittagong 25,970, Faridpur 11,135, Backergunge 8,634, 24-Parganas 7,098, Noakhali 6,073, Jessore 5,879, and Khulna 5,527. These are all the littoral districts of Bengal proper, where there are many grades of tenure-holders between the zamindar and the cultivator, and the profits derived from land are distributed more than in any other part of the province among the masses of the population. The number of permanent leases registered in one year in these seven districts amounts to 70,316. In the seven districts of the Patna Division during the same year only 982 permanent leases were registered, and these figures afford a marked illustration of the difference of the land tenure systems in different parts of this province. In the deltaic tracts, which are the most prosperous portion of Bengal, the interests in land are infinitesimally sub-divided and sublet, but they are mostly fixed and permanent. In Bihar, where the peasantry are worse off than elsewhere, there are middlemen with temporary leases only between the zamindar and raiyat, and fixity of rent and tenure is rarely known. In the deltaic tracts agrarian wealth is distributed in the hands of many until all are comparatively prosperus; in Bihar it is confined to the hands of few, and the masses of the people are steeped in poverty.

4. There was an increase of 66,668 in the total number of leases, other than perpetual, during the last triennial period. In 1890-91 the number fell from 218,515 to 209,726, the decrease being most marked in Central Bengal and North Bihar. In the former it is attributed to the high inundations which led to a failure of the crops, and in the latter to a falling off in the number of zar-i-peshgi leases which had been abnormally large in previous years. In 1891-92 and 1892-93 the registrations of temporary leases showed a further increase, the numbers being 219,455 and 239,921 respectively. The increase is attributed to fresh settlements made by landlords with their raiyats, and in a few districts also to the operation of section 85 of the Tenancy Act.

5. The number of instruments of mortgage of the value of Rs. 100 and upwards rose from 77,555 in 1889-90 to 108,214 in 1892-93. The increase is common to most districts, and has kept pace with the general advance in the number of registrations of all kinds. There was a considerable increase in the number of mortgages of less than Rs. 100 in value, the figures for the past year being 185,947 against 130,007 in 1889-90, and 154,840 in 1891-92. The increase last year occurred in almost all districts and is attributed generally to bad harvests, but in Muzaffarpur it is said to have been due to the raiyats of Piprahi in Sitamarhi having been obliged to raise money by means of mortgages in order to carry on litigation with their maliks. In Chittagong many of these documents are said to be mere paper transactions for the sole purpose of showing some sort of right before the Settlement Officer. The number of obligations for payment of money, including bonds, rose from 103,962 in 1889-90 to 108,403 in 1892-93, the largest number of registrations being found among those from Rs. 25 to Rs. 100 in value. It is satisfactory to note that there has been a steady increase in applications for copy and searches, the number having risen from 30,683 in 1889-90 to 36,107, which may be accepted as an indication of the increased efficiency and popularity of the department.

6. As in former years, the number of counterparts largely exceeded the number of leases registered. The following statement (which includes perpetual leases) shows the proportion of pattas to kabuliyats during the past four years:—

	Compulsory.	Optional.	Total.
1889-90	23·54	11·06	23·03
1890-91	22·60	11·28	22·07
1891-92	29·98	9·89	29·37
1892-93	29·18	10·03	28·58

Although there was a slight decrease in the proportion last year, it will be seen that the number of kabuliyats taken from raiyats still far exceeds the pattas given to them. Various reasons have been assigned for this, but there can be no doubt that in many districts the zamindars are disinclined to grant pattas, partly on account of the expense, and partly because they think that it would be contrary to their interests to do so, while the raiyats themselves are not strong enough to insist on pattas being granted.

7. The aggregate value of property transferred by registered documents last year, amounting to Rs. 17,73,50,008, shows an increase of more than half a crore of rupees as compared with the preceding year, and of nearly three crores as compared with 1889-90. There was an increase last year of 53 lakhs in the value of immoveable property transferred, and of 3½ lakhs in the value of moveable property, due in both cases to the increased number of registrations.

8. The total number of transactions involving the transfer of estates or tenures rose to 97,920 in 1892-93, against 94,894 in the preceding year, and 90,691 in 1889-90. The percentage of purchasers in such transactions during the past four years is as follows:—

	Mahajans, traders, and money-lenders.	Zamindars.	Intermediate tenure-holders.	Raiyats.	Others.
1889-90 ...	9·9	15·3	29·6	24·1	21·1
1890-91 ...	9·4	15·6	27·9	24·9	22·2
1891-92 ...	9·8	15·6	29·1	23·3	22·1
1892-93 ...	10·4	15·2	30·6	25·3	18·5

The number of raiyati-holdings transferred by deed of sale during each of the last four years, as well as the number and classes of purchasers, are compared in the following table:—

Year.	RAIYATI-HOLDINGS AT FIXED RATES.							RAIYATI-HOLDINGS WITH RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY.
		PURCHASERS.							PURCHASERS.
			Zamindars.							Zamindars.
	Number of transactions.	Mahajans, traders, or money-lenders.	Landlords of holdings transferred.	Other landlords.	Raiyats.	Others.	Total.	Number of transactions.	Mahajans, traders, or money-lenders.	Landlords of holdings transferred.	Other landlords.	Raiyats.	Others.	Total.
1889-90 ...	35,342	5,161	1,181	2,515	20,396	8,396	37,649	77,373	10,029	2,060	5,198	54,234	9,277	80,798
1890-91 ...	36,909	5,348	1,311	2,927	20,348	8,735	39,730	84,921	9,919	2,777	5,700	66,913	10,246	89,555
1891-92 ...	37,519	5,996	1,574	3,282	20,383	9,045	40,080	1,03,777	13,068	2,839	6,776	75,263	10,891	1,08,837
1892-93 ...	43,749	7,881	1,232	4,777	23,760	9,456	47,106	1,25,250	16,135	3,241	7,889	87,460	12,729	1,27,454

There has thus been a steady advance in the number of transactions of both classes, but the increase is most marked in the transfers of raiyati-holdings with rights of occupancy, the number of which is nearly three-times as large as the number of transfers of holdings at fixed rates. As usual, the raiyats were foremost among the purchasers of holdings with rights of occupancy, being 68·6 per cent. of the whole number.

The number of sales of raiyati holdings at fixed rates in 1892-93 is largest in the 24-Parganas, 5,556, Midnapore 4,006, Bankura 3,905, Chittagong 3,885, Bhagalpur 3,261, and Backergunge 3,129: the sales of holdings with rights of occupancy are most frequent in Midnapore, 14,484, Tippera 12,911, Rangpur 8,756, Dinajpur 7,859, Mymensingh 7,374, and Champaran 6,590. The mahajan purchasers are by far the most numerous in Midnapore, amounting under the first class to 1,933, and under the second to 4,770.

9. The number of registrations under sections 12 and 18 of the Tenancy Act fell from 26,780 in 1889-90 to 20,391 in 1891-92, and to 20,351 in 1892-93. The system of levying landlord's fees under these sections continues to be as unpopular as ever both with the landlords and tenants—with the former, because they believe that their acceptance of the fee will be construed as an acknowledgment on their part of the status claimed, and with the raiyats, because they are not exempted by the payment of the fee from paying it over again as salami in getting their names registered in the zamindar's sarishta. The total number of operations under the Tenancy Act during the past year shows an increase in 19 out of the 35 districts in the province. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that, as reported by the Inspector-General and the majority of the District Officers, the provisions of the Tenancy Act have indirectly led to an increase of registrations, especially in sales and mortgages of raiyati-holdings.

10. The number of documents impounded by the registering officers during the past year was 2,091, of which 1,625 were declared by the Collector to be insufficiently stamped, and 227 were declared as properly stamped. Excluding 55 prosecutions on account of documents insufficiently stamped, the total number of prosecutions instituted was 88 as against 83 in 1889-90 and 70 in 1891-92. The number of persons put on trial in these 88 cases was 147, of whom 24 were acquitted and 69 convicted, and the remainder were pending trial at the close of the year. The total receipts of the Department rose from Rs. 11,89,840 in 1889-90 to Rs. 13,33,735 in 1891-92, and Rs. 14,27,000 in 1892-93. The surplus of receipts over expenditure for the same years increased from Rs. 5,71,366 to Rs. 6,49,532 and Rs. 7,08,770 respectively.

11. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the number of inspections made during 1892-93 exceeds the number made in any of the preceding six years. In addition to one inspection made by Sir Charles Elliott, and 33 by the Commissioners of Divisions, the number for the past year was 1,039. The number of inspections made by Special Sub-Registrars, rose from 300 in 1891-92 to 414, but this is partly accounted for by an increase in the number of Special Sub-Registrars appointed. In the districts of Mymensingh, 24-Parganas, Muzaffarpur, and Murshidabad the number of inspections made by Special Sub-Registrars fell far below the required standard. In accordance with a proposal made last year by the Inspector-General, the Lieutenant-Governor has directed that failure in inspection duty without adequate reason will be followed by proportionate loss of pay, and the defaulting Sub-Registrars have been called upon to show cause why this order should not be enforced in their case.

12. In an interesting note which has been included in the report, Mr. Holmwood has enumerated the administrative changes that have been introduced by him during the last triennial period. Among the most important of these are the opening of 29 new offices, and the appointment of additional Special Sub-Registrars, which is reported to have resulted in a marked improvement in the work both of the sadar and rural offices. Wherever possible, the readjustment of Hindu and Muhammadan Sub-Registrars with reference to the classes of the community which preponderate in the tracts of country concerned has been carried out, and the rules and circulars of the Department have been revised and incorporated in a complete manual. Increased accommodation has been provided at various head-quarters, and at Calcutta the appointment of an additional Sub-Registrar as well as of several ministerial officers has been sanctioned. Since the close of the year the sanction of the Government of India has been obtained to certain alterations in the table of fees under Act III of 1877. The ad valorem charge for documents under the value of Rs. 50 has now been reduced to 8 annas, and it is believed that this will lead to an increase in the number of registrations, especially of documents of small value, and will eventually prove a gain financially to the Department. The proposal to introduce Sir William Herschel's system for securing the identification of parties and their witnesses in the registration of deeds by means of finger prints was sanctioned in May last as an experimental measure in the districts of Calcutta, the 24-Parganas and Hooghly, and the Inspector-General has been asked to submit a report at the end of the present year on the working of the scheme.

13. The following table shows the working of Act I (B.C.) of 1876 for the voluntary registration of Muhammadan marriages and divorces during the 17 years since its introduction:—

Years.	Number of districts in which the Act was in force.	Number of offices open on the 31st March.	Number of marriages registered.	Number of divorces other than kholas registered.	Number of kholas registered.	Total number of ceremonies registered.

1877-78 ...	14	103	7,391	1,404	595	9,390
1878-79 ...	14	103	8,161	1,705	771	10,637

1883-84 ...	14	112	4,273	2,315	895	7,483
1884-85 ...	14	112	3,913	2,540	957	7,410
1885-86 ...	14	112	3,993	2,422	1,109	7,524
1886-87 ...	14	112	3,926	2,179	1,147	7,252
1887-88 ...	14	112	4,100	2,478	1,090	7,668
1888-89 ...	14	113	4,527	2,819	1,113	8,459
1889-90 ...	14	113	3,959	3,119	1,137	8,215
1890-91 ...	14	115	4,063	3,154	1,234	8,451
1891-92 ...	19	151	5,442	3,260	1,474	10,176
1892-93 ...	19	151	6,780	3,853	1,542	12,175

From the above statement it will be seen that there was a satisfactory increase of 1,338 in the number of marriages registered last year, while the total number of ceremonies registered was larger than in any year since the introduction of the Act. The increase was shared by 13 districts, and in three only, viz. in Chittagong, Bogra, and Noakhali, was there a decrease. The Inspector-General looks upon the general results of the year as satisfactory, and he believes that in the majority of districts Muhammadan Registrars are gradually gaining popularity, and that, where they have failed to do so, the failure is due either to their own action or to the active opposition of interested headmen and zamindars. The introduction of the Kazis' Act in all districts in which Act I (B.C.) of 1876 is in force is said to have had but little effect on the registration of marriages under that Act, and only a few marriages have been solemnized by Kazis or their Naibs appointed under Act XII of 1880. The Inspector-General does not believe that the Act will ever gain much ground as the machinery is not popular, and it is generally reported that the services of the village mollahs are preferred to those of the Kazis appointed by Government.

14. Mr. Holmwood held the office of Inspector-General from the 16th March 1890 up to the 17th May 1893, on which date he made over charge to his successor. His administration has been highly successful, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to place on record his appreciation of his efficient control of the Department. The names of the officers specially commended by the Inspector-General will be noted in the Appointment Department.

5. The quantity of jute shipped at Chittagong during the year under review was 47,549 tons, against 46,203 tons in the previous year.

Jute trade.

6. The quantity of grain, including rice, exported during the year amounted to 18,699 tons, showing a decrease of 19,676 tons, as compared with that of the previous year. The decrease is principally due to the price of rice on the local market having been very high, which restricted shipments. Of the quantity exported, 10,083 tons went to home ports, and 8,616 tons to foreign ports. The grain exported to home ports consisted chiefly of rice, paddy and pulse. The average value of the rice exported to foreign ports was Rs. 5·2 per cwt.

Grain trade.

7. The total quantity of tea exported amounted to 1,078,457lbs., being 1,83,717lbs. less than that of the previous year. The amount exported to foreign ports was 103,368lbs., showing a decrease of 94,096lbs. as compared with that of last year.

Tea trade.

8. The quantity of salt imported during the year was 1,4205 tons, showing an increase of 6,469 tons on that of the previous year. The increase is due to a larger importation on account of the smallness of the stock at the commencement of the year. The salt transported to Narainganj was less than that of the previous year, as larger supplies were brought from Calcutta, where the market was cheaper.

Salt trade.

9. The imports of oil from foreign ports decreased in value by Rs. 2,13,448, and those from home ports by Rs. 6,581. The total value of oil imported was Rs. 2,30,709, while the value of the exports amounted to Rs. 64,887 only. The total value of mineral oil imported was Rs. 1,33,199.

Oils.

10. The value of piece-goods imported from home ports shows a decrease of Rs. 2,86,023. The value of sugar rose by Rs. 20,647.

Piece-goods and other articles imported from home ports.

Cotton, oils, &c., exported to home ports.

11. Amongst the articles exported to home ports, cotton, oils and provisions show increases of Rs. 1,23,695, Rs. 32,804, and Rs. 94,560, respectively. Salt and spices, however, show decreases of Rs. 66,714 and Rs. 59,639 The decrease in the value of salt has already been noticed. The fall in the value of spices was due to smaller shipments of chillies, consequent on the partial failure of the crop in Chittagong.

Port appliances.

12. The appliances of the port are reported to have been kept in good order during the year. The depth of water in Track No. II increased by one foot, and that in Track No. IV and Track No. V by two feet, while the depths in Track No. I and Track No. III decreased by six inches and three feet respectively. The state of the river was on the whole satisfactory.

Lights and fog-signals.

13. It is stated that the lights and fog-signals of almost all native-vessels were inspected during the year. No reason is, however, given for omitting the vessels which were not examined.

Earnings and expenditure of the steam tug Gekko.

14. The circumstances under which the Commissioners considered the purchase of a steam-tug for the Port necessary are fully recounted in the report. They are shortly that it was the only practicable way in which the presence of a steam-tug at the Port throughout the year could be ensured. The earnings and expenditure of the steam tug Gekko from the 1st July 1892 to the 30th June 1893 are given in the subjoined statement:—

Receipts.	Rs.	A.	P.	Expenditure.	Rs.	A.	P.

Health of the shipping.

15. The health of the shipping was good compared with that of the previous year. Thirty-seven seamen were admitted into hospital, against 41 in the year before. Of this number 33 were discharged, 1 relieved, and 3 died of cholera. The number of deaths among seamen from cholera was 4 in all. There were no cases of scurvy or disease arising from bad or insufficient food.

Light-houses.

16. The Norman's Point Light-house was visited by the Vice-Chairman of the Commissioners several times during the year, and found to be in good order. A first order dioptric revolving light was erected at Kutubdia on the 1st of January last, and is working fairly well.

Pilotage.

17. The state of the Pilotage Fund is shown in the subjoined table:—

Nothing is stated in the report about the working of the Pilot Service during the year under review. In the absence of any report to the Government about casualties occurring to ships in charge of pilots, it is presumed that there were no accidents. But the report should have contained definite information on this point. The attention of the Commissioners will be drawn to this matter.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REDISTRIBUTION OF THE TONNAGE OF THE HOOGHLY PILOT SERVICE.

No. 2178Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 18th September 1893.

Hooghly Pilot Service.

Resolution.—The tonnage scale under which ships are at present distributed to the various grades of pilots was laid down in Resolution No. 2174Marine of the 28th August 1891. The object of the scale was to reserve ships of large tonnage for the more experienced pilots, and also to secure, as far as possible, an average income to each pilot proportionate to his standing in the service. For the five years 1888 to 1892, these objects were substantially attained, but numerous memorials have lately been received from mate pilots showing that, during the last six months, their income has seriously fallen off. The Port Officer has recommended that the limits of tonnage for each grade now in force shall be revised. The Lieutenant-Governor having fully considered this recommendation, has decided that the following scale shall be observed till further orders:—

Branch Pilots	...	...	...	Above 2,800 tons.
Senior Master Pilots	..	...	...	From 1,601 to 2,800 tons.
Junior ditto	...	...	...	„ 1,601 to 2,200 „
Mate Pilots	...	...	.	Up to 1,600 tons.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Port Officer, Calcutta, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. ODLING,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inches of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 19th September 1893.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 16TH OF SEPTEMBER 1893.

At the end of the previous week, the cyclonic storm which had been forming in the Bay was moving in a north-westerly direction into the north-west angle. On the first day of the present week it underwent practically no change, as pressure remained steady at all the inland stations, and fell less than ·04 inch in Orissa. There was then a very widespread depression, extending over the whole of the Bay and the province of Bengal, the area of lowest pressure being in the north of the Bay between Arakan and Orissa. Within this area defect was more than ·2 inch, and at all the Bengal stations it was more than ·1 inch. The depression moved slowly to the north-west, and the centre crossed the coast between Saugor Island and Balasore about 8 A.M. on the following day, that is, the 11th. Large changes of pressure occurred near the centre, and defect increased to nearly ·4 inch at Saugor Island and Balasore, but, except in the south-western districts, readings were higher, and gradients much steeper to the east and north of the centre. With this increase of gradients squally weather became general in Lower Bengal, but more specially in the south-western districts, where heavy rain was falling.

The rise of pressure which had set in from the east continued to advance slowly, and the depression took a similar but more westerly course to that of the one which occurred exactly a week before. One important difference resulted from the slow advance of the wave of rising pressure. The centre of the depression, instead of moving 500 miles in the 24 hours after it crossed the coast, was still in the west of Chota Nagpur, and the steep gradients, with rough rainy weather, continued in the south-western districts. Pressure was then rising very rapidly in the north-west angle of the Bay, and more slowly over the whole province except in Chota Nagpur and part of South Bihar. On the 13th the rapid rise of pressure continued, but gradients were still moderately steep over the western districts, and general rain was falling, though in smaller quantities, in all districts except Assam, North Bengal, and North Bihar. Very heavy local falls occurred at some of the western stations, especially Vizagapatam, Puri, and Ranchi, where six or more inches were recorded.

As pressure continued to rise, the distribution became more uniform, weather moderated, and rainfall became scattered, and then entirely ceased in Lower Bengal and Orissa. Thus on the 14th only scattered showers fell in East Bengal, and part of South-West Bengal; on the 15th a large number of stations reported no rain, and on the 16th it had practically ceased. But during these days a ridge of relatively high pressure formed over Bengal, and the north of the Bay, running almost north and south; and when pressure began to fall, as it did, slowly on the 15th and 16th, this led to rainfall in the more northern districts which had hitherto during the existence of the disturbance been practically rainless. General moderately heavy rain fell in North Bengal and the adjacent part of Assam on the 16th, and this was practically the only rain reported on that day.

Pressure.—Readings were low in the early part of the week, while the depression crossed the south-western districts, and large changes occurred on the 11th and following days till the 14th. On the 11th there was a rapid fall in the north-west angle of the Bay near the centre of the depression, but the wave of rising pressure, which was advancing from the east, had on the 12th spread over the greater part of the province, causing almost normal readings in all districts except Chota Nagpur and Orissa. The rapid rise continued on the 13th and 14th chiefly in the western districts, and the resulting distribution was above the normal by amounts varying from ·1 inch to nearly ·2 inch. During the last two days of the week readings were very uniform, the difference between the lowest in the west of Bihar and the greatest in the south-east of the Bay being only a tenth of an inch. The mean difference from the normal for the week varies from defect of ·02 inch in Orissa and Chota Nagpur to excess of ·06 inch in North Bengal.

Temperature.—At the beginning of the week mean temperature differed very little from, but was generally above, the normal. As the disturbance advanced to the north-west and rainy weather became general, temperature fell rapidly at first in the south-western districts and afterwards over the whole province. Defect was more than 6° in south-west Bengal and Orissa on the 12th, and more than 5° in the central districts on the 13th. On the 14th and 15th comparatively cool weather continued, but temperature was increasing, though it was not till the 16th that means were again practically normal. The means for the larger divisions are below the normal except in Assam, by about half a degree in East and North Bengal and North Bihar, 1° in south Bihar, 2° in Chota Nagpur and 2·5° in Orissa and South-West Bengal.

Rainfall.—General heavy rain fell in the early part of the week in the south-western districts. In East Bengal the rainfall was general during the greater part of the week, but the falls were usually light, and on an average the normal amount has been reported. In Bihar and North Bengal falls were never heavy, and generally very scattered. There is therefore a large defect, especially in the more northern districts. In South Bihar average defect is ·57 inch, while in North Bengal the average fall is only 50 per cent. and in North Bihar less than 20 per cent. of the normal. In Orissa, on the other hand, mean excess is 2·57, in South-West Bengal 3·33, and in Chota Nagpur 3·46 inches.

The following places recorded falls of more than 10 inches:—Puri, Tamluk, Ghatal Garhbeta, Saugor Island, Mohesreka, Jahanabad, Indas, Kotalpur and Ranchi, and, several other stations in the south-western districts reported more than 8 inches. The only falls of less than 5 inches occurred in Nadia, Jessore, Birbhum, and Murshidabad.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 16th of September 1893:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Statement of principal commodities carried over the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the month of June 1893.

Increases.

	Tons.		Tons.
Coal	8,181	Oil-seeds	1,600
Cause of increase not fully explained.		Alamdanga, Sonaili, Kasba, and Forbesganj show small increases under this head.
Jute, unscrewed	2,280	Railway plant and rolling-stock	4,643
Season rather later than in 1892.		Chiefly from Calcutta and Chitpur for the Bengal Duars and Kuch Bihar State Railways.
Kerosine oil	1,219
Partly due to prohibition of carriage by boat within certain limits of the port of Calcutta, partly to extension of bulk oil traffic.

Decreases.

	Tons.		Tons.
Rice	5,082	Salt	896
Goalundo and Northern Section Stations generally show decreases under this head. The probability of scarcity in the eastern districts arrested exports to Calcutta; up-country dealers preferring to hold.		Mostly in the upward despatches from Chitpur, due to less demand at up-stations.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 22 of 1893) that a net depth of 15 feet now exists throughout the river between the town and the Outer Bar, and on the latter the minimum depth is 14 feet at low-water springs.

As the cuttings are only 100 feet wide, masters of vessels are cautioned to exercise great care, and to avoid as far as possible meeting another vessel in the cuttings, and to slow down to a low rate of speed at such distance from dredges and attendant plant as will ensure their passing without causing any damage.

The magnetic bearings of the line of lights and beacons at Eagle Farm Flats and at the Inner Bar are now—

N. 25° E. and N. 23° 30′ E., respectively.

AUSTRALIA—BURNETT BAR.

Directions to enter.

THE Portmaster, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 23 of 1893) that the lights and beacons to lead in over the bar, lead across with a minimum depth at low water of 4½ feet. The tidal signals exhibited give the depth of water across the bar on this lead.

In addition to the abovementioned original lead, which is continued, the south channel has been marked and lighted, carrying a depth of 6½ feet at low water. These marks are as follows:—

An obelisk beacon—white with red top—placed on outer beach 240 feet S. 61° E. from light-house. Two triangular white beacons with vertical black stripe in centre placed on the sands off the North Head.

Directions to enter.—Bring the obelisk and light-house in line, bearing N. 61° W. and steer in, passing a red buoy on the starboard hand, until the triangular beacons, bearing about N.-W. ½ N. are in line, keep the latter in line, passing a black buoy on the port hand, until the beacons of the "Bar Lead," bearing S.-W. by W. ½ W. are in line, when they are to be kept so, and a vessel will proceed as usual.

By night a red light is shown from the obelisk beacon, which is to be kept in line with the main light at the light-house until the lights on the triangular beacons, the nearer of which is a red light, are in line. The latter will then be kept in line until the white lights of the Bar Lead are in line, when a vessel will proceed as usual.

By using this channel two feet more water will be carried than in the old straight lead over the bar, but mariners are cautioned that the leads take a vessel close to the outer beach, and that great care must be exercised to avoid getting to the westward of the second lead.

N.B.—Masters of vessels are hereby informed that the Port Commissioners of Chittagong have acquired a powerful twin-screw salvage tug for towing and assisting vessels trading to this port. This step was unavoidable, as the private tug only came and remained during the busy shipping season, after which the port was left without a tug. Consequently vessels were put to great inconvenience; ships were delayed and often had to pay exorbitant rates for towage by mail steamers, and even the latter were not always available. Shipmasters have on many occasions urged on the Port authorities the necessity of a powerful boat being stationed here for assisting vessels. The Commissioners at considerable expense have now supplied the steam-tug Gekko, which is fit to render any assistance, and trust it may meet with support.

RESOLUTION—No. 171T—F.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1892-93.

The Customs Reports submitted to Government in previous years, while embodying interesting and valuable information regarding the seaborne trade of the province, were considered by Sir Charles Elliott not to have treated with sufficient fulness of the collection of customs duty and the growth of dutiable trade. The Board were accordingly enjoined by Government in January last to give greater prominence to these subjects in future reports: it was directed that a special Chapter should be devoted to dutiable goods showing, port by port, the imports and exports, their fluctuations in respect of quantity, value, and duty, and their destination, i.e., whence they came and whither they were transported: at the same time it was pointed out that neither the form of the Report nor the system of compiling the figures therein given was to be altered in any way that might conflict with the standing orders of the Government of India on the subject. The present report has been prepared in accordance with these instructions.

2. Customs duty.—The following table shows the gross and net customs duty, inclusive of that on imported salt, collected in Bengal during the past five years, as well as in the year before and after the remission of the general import duties which came into force on the 10th March 1882:—

The increase in the net revenue of the province amounts to Rs. 1,32,967, or ·4 per cent. as compared with the previous year, and the total net duty realised is now only 8·6 per cent. less than what it was in 1880-81 previous to the reduction of the salt duty and the remission of all import duties, except those on arms and ammunition, liquors and opium. There was an increase of Rs. 3,20,387 in the import duty on general merchandise, the result of larger realisations from kerosine-oil. On the other hand, receipts from export duty, which is levied on rice alone, show a falling off of Rs. 3,16,257 owing to a decline in the trade attributed to the heavy shipments of rice in the previous year, and to an increase in the price of rice during the year under review.

3. At pages 6 and 7 of the Report an elaborate table is given, showing in detail the duty realised on the imports and exports of the different dutiable goods at the several ports in Bengal during the last five years. The following statement gives in abstract the results shown in that table for the years 1891-92 and 1892-93:—

4. As was to be expected, the increase in dutiable imports in Calcutta occurred chiefly under salt and mineral oil. The receipts from salt are slowly expanding, but those from oil have grown rapidly. Liquors also yielded a slight increase, while the receipts from arms and opium fell off. The course of the trade in kerosine-oil used for burning purposes during the last few years has been very remarkable, as will be seen from the following statement:—

Country of Export.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.	1891-92.	1892-93.
1	2	3	4	5	6

Total ...	18,601,162	26,046,133	28,239,675	32,739,195	40,228,168

The whole trade has steadily increased during the last five years. The year under report is remarkable for the enormous increase in imports from Batoum, which place for the first time shows a larger total export than the United States. The increase in shipments from the United Kingdom is also noteworthy. For the first time oil has been imported in bulk, during the year a tank steamer brought from Batoum 1,326,852 gallons, by far the largest quantity ever imported in one vessel. This innovation, by which it is said the price of oil can be reduced by 10 or 12 annas per case, bids fair to revolutionise the trade.

5. The imports of ale, beer and porter partially recovered the heavy fall of the previous year, but are still much below those of 1888-89 and 1889-90. Of spirits, whisky alone showed an increase, the total imports amounting to 159,059 gallons, the highest total yet reached. Brandy, gin and other sorts of spirits all showed a falling off. The total importations of spirit showed a decline of 10,241 gallons, but the actual consumption was probably not less than last year, for the stocks at the close of the year were reduced by 15,141 gallons. Of wines and liqueurs there was a falling off of 6,785 gallons, or 5½ per cent. in the importations, the decline being most noticeable in champagne: claret and port alone showed a slight improvement. These results the Board ascribe, no doubt correctly, to the general shrinkage in incomes caused by the decreased value of the rupee. There was an increase in the amount of Australian wine imported, but the amount is still comparatively small, and these wines do not yet appear to have secured a firm position. The falling off in exports occurred under rice for the reasons already explained.

6. The principal dutiable articles of the trade with Chittagong are kerosine-oil, salt and rice, the receipts from all of which declined in the past year. Balasore and Puri did not import any dutiable goods from foreign ports, while Cuttack imported a larger quantity of kerosine-oil, increased collections amounting to Rs. 7,813 being obtained from this article. The only dutiable article imported into Narainganj is salt, which is conveyed there from Chittagong under bond: no foreign trade is carried on with Narainganj.

7. Value of trade.—It has been commonly stated that the year 1892 was one of the worst years for trade ever known in Calcutta, and the figures supplied in the Board's Report show that as a fact trade was bad both in Calcutta and in the other ports of the province. The following statement compares the value of the import and export trade in the last two years under the three main heads of goods, treasure, and Government transactions, as well as the total trade of the province, both import and export:—

	Goods.		Treasure.		Government transactions.		Total.		Increase.	Decrease.

Excluding Government transactions, the total value of imports shows a decrease of Rs 3,62,12,288, and that of exports a decrease of Rs. 23,57,247. The causes of these fluctuations will be reviewed further on in this Resolution. Taking imports and exports together, the total value of the trade of the year, exclusive of Government transactions, decreased by Rs. 3,85,69,535 as compared with the figures of 1891-92.

8. Foreign Trade of Calcutta.—The bulk of the foreign trade of Calcutta is carried on with the United Kingdom, but the proportion which this trade bears to the whole foreign trade of the port, and which in 1890-91 was the lowest for ten years, has again slightly declined, and now stands at 57·18 per cent. The volume of trade with China, which continues to stand second in the list, also shows a decline from 10·02 to 8·83 per cent. on the whole trade of the port, the result of smaller receipts of treasure from Hong-Kong and the Treaty ports, and the more restricted shipment of opium to Hong-Kong. The United States come third, and the trade with that country appears to have revived from the depression noticed in 1891-92. Germany has again advanced, the percentage having risen from 4·50 to 4·98. The trade of Calcutta with the Straits Settlements is declining, while that with Ceylon is steadily on the increase.

9. The proportion which the foreign trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal bears to the total trade fell from 68·6 per cent. in 1891-92 to 68·1 per cent. in the year under review. The decrease was entirely confined to imports, the exports showing a rise of about 41 lakhs in value.

10. The following table shows the fluctuations in shipping during the past two years:—

Arrivals and Departures.

	1891-92.	Number.	Tonnage.
Steam vessels ...	... ...	681	1,335,205
Sailing ...	... ...	402	580,693
Native craft ...	... ...	42	6,898

	1892-93.
Steam vessels ...	... ...	641	1,298,244
Sailing ...	... ...	421	651,582
Native craft ...	... ...	23	4,444
	Total ...	1,085	1,954,270

Account is here taken of those steamers only which arrive and leave without touching at any other Indian port. Although the total tonnage has advanced by 31,474 tons, the total number of steam-vessels has fallen off by 40. In sailing vessels, the steady decline, both in number and tonnage, observed in previous years has, for the present, been checked. The trade with the United Kingdom shows a net decrease of 10 vessels, with Germany of 9, and with the United States of 1, while China shows an increase of 7 vessels

11. Calcutta Imports.—The total value of imports, including treasure, into Calcutta from foreign countries again fell, viz., from Rs. 28,65,72,342 to Rs. 25,43,01,406 in 1892-93, the net decrease in merchandise amounting to Rs. 2,12,81,303, and in treasure to Rs. 1,09,89,633. The value of dutiable goods, however, shows an increase of Rs. 20,61,749. The following table shows the value of the principal articles of merchandise imported during each of the last two years:—

	1891-92. Rs.	1892-93. Rs.
Cotton-goods (including twist and yarn) ...	13,55,20,480	12,51,05,372
Metals	2,44,88,028	2,08,16,248
Mineral oil (for burning and lubricating)	1,34,49,052	1,56,41,143
Machinery	82,63,844	83,31,033
Woollen goods	63,84,025	62,13,269
Sugar	47,30,967	27,27,551
Salt	49,53,116	48,55,575
Liquors	44,90,858	44,00,796
Hardware	34,44,094	31,11,383

While cotton goods continued to occupy the foremost place in the import trade, their proportion to the total importations declined during the year by nearly 8 per cent: the falling off occurred both in piece-goods and twist and yarn. The metal trade which had materially recovered in 1891-92 from the decline in the preceding year fell off again during the year under review. This unfavourable result is attributed to the heavy fall in the importations of Australian copper, Japanese copper from Hong-Kong, and unwrought copper from the United Kingdom. The trade in mineral oils continues to expand as has already been stated. A special feature in the trade in machinery and mill-work is the large importation of machinery for the manufacture of paper. The trade in woollen goods received a check during the year owing to large stocks having been left at the close of the preceding year. Sugar continues to show a decline in importations. The decrease in the importation of salt and liquors has already been noticed in a preceding paragraph. The steady progress in the imports of hardware received a check during the year under review. Among other items it may be observed with satisfaction that in these provinces country coal is gradually displacing imported coal, the exports (211,218 tons) far exceeding the imports (12,565 tons) during the year, the latter figures being the smallest known for many years. Matches show an advance of 14½ per cent. in importations, Japanese matches which are said to be made by hand having been received in much larger quantities than in 1891-92. The importations of tea have fallen to the lowest point yet touched, Indian tea having almost altogether supplanted the China leaf in the favour of the public.

12. Calcutta Exports.—The total value of exports from Calcutta to foreign countries, including treasure, again rose, viz. from Rs. 38,91,36,558 in 1891-92 to Rs. 41,04,16,430 in 1892-93, this being a higher figure than any yet recorded. In dutiable goods, that is in rice, there was a decrease of Rs. 1,87,963; in free goods there was an increase of Rs. 1,78,02,607. The following statement gives the value of the principal articles of Indian produce and manufacture exported in 1891-92 and 1892-93—

	1891-92.	1892-93.
	Rs.	Rs.
Jute, raw	6,08,27,524	7,19,71,637
Opium	6,01,47,915	5,98,50,325
Tea	5,63,31,095	6,06,74,386
Oilseeds	4,13,45,725	3 22,59,426
Rice	3,26,87,662	3,25,26,271
Indigo	2,63,60,394	2,60,04,461
Jute (gunny-bags and cloths) ...	2,45,38,536	3,17,58,214
Hides and skins	2 25,72,638	2,50,84,939
Wheat	2,11,85,172	1,52,42,488
Raw cotton	30,85,633	63,58,537

The decline in the exports of jute in the previous year has been followed by an increase in the year under review; for the crop was good and prices were low during the months of largest shipments. For the first time the trade in tea has shown a decline in the quantity exported, though the total value of the exports continues to show an increase, the average selling price having risen by one anna. The Collector of Customs draws attention to the decline in the export of tea from Calcutta to Australia and the simultaneous increase in exports from Ceylon, the figures being respectively 3,879,303 lbs. from the former and 5,042,648 lbs. from the latter, and there is little doubt that Ceylon is making every effort to obtain command of the trade. China tea shows no signs of recovery in foreign markets, but Ceylon tea continues to advance in favour. The trade in oilseeds, particularly linseed, which had advanced in the preceding year, fell off again in the past year, having gravitated towards Bombay. The exports of indigo were the lowest recorded for many years; the outturn, owing to unfavourable weather, amounting to barely half that of the previous year; prices, however, rose proportionately, so that the value of the crop exported was not below the average. The remarkably large increase in the exports of wheat in 1891-92 was arrested during the year under review owing to a short crop and the low prices ruling in the foreign markets; the bulk of the shipments was as usual consigned to the United Kingdom. A better crop and higher prices in Europe stimulated the cotton trade during the year, the percentage of exports having risen from ·7 to 1·5: Bengal cotton, however, owing to its short staple, is not much in request in the English market.

13. Treasure.—The net imports of gold and silver declined by 65½ and 73⅔ lakhs, respectively.

14. Coasting trade of Calcutta.—After an advance in the two years preceding 1892-93, the coasting trade of Calcutta again fell off, the imports having decreased by Rs. 50,16,190, and the exports by Rs. 86,08,087: the decrease was confined to Indian produce.

15. Chittagong.—The total value of the trade of Chittagong shows a decline of Rs. 19,17,194 as compared with the previous year, the decrease affecting both foreign and coasting trade. The falling off under foreign trade is attributed to smaller imports of kerosine oil, and smaller exports of rice, jute, and tea, and under the head of coasting trade it is ascribed to smaller imports of piece-goods and smaller shipments of paddy, salt and spices. The amount of customs duty declined from Rs. 7,75,031 in 1891-92 to Rs. 6,79,473 in 1892-93.

16. Orissa Ports.—The following statement shows an abstract of the import and export trade of the Orissa ports during the last two years:—

		1891-92.	1892-93.
	Cuttack.	Rs.	Rs.
Foreign		33,79,111	27,56,539
Coasting		8,22,161	6,58,897

Coasting		1,21,46,539	1,03,51,964
Total ...		1,25,19,439	1,07,46,209

In all these ports there has been a shrinkage of trade during the year under review, and the customs duty realised declined from Rs. 2,33,294 to Rs 1,76,435.

17. Narainganj (Dacca).—The total trade of Narainganj, which is carried on with the coast ports only, fell from Rs. 73,00,346 to Rs. 72,34,513 in 1892-93. The customs duty, which represents exclusively the duty levied on salt imported from Chittagong under bond, fell from Rs. 4,53,021 to Rs. 3,02,198.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to the Board of Revenue for their supervision of the Customs Department during the year, and to Mr. Marriott for his efficient administration of the department, and for the full and interesting report submitted by him. The names of the officers who are favourably noticed by the Board, with the remarks recorded, will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

FLOODS IN CERTAIN PARTS OF THE DACCA, CHITTAGONG, AND PATNA DIVISIONS.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT, AGRICULTURE.—No. 1140T.—R.

Darjeeling, the 22nd September 1893.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Correspondence between this Government and the Commissioners of the Patna, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions on the subject of floods which have prevailed in parts of those Divisions.

Early in August reports reached the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor that there had been excessive floods in certain parts of the Dacca, Patna, and Chittagong Divisions, and that some injury to the crops and possibly some distress in the affected localities might ensue. Accordingly the attention of the local officers concerned was called to these reports, and instructions were issued that prompt inquiries should be made by Collectors and Commissioners themselves in the affected areas.

2. The results of these inquiries show that there is nowhere any ground for apprehending famine; nor is there reason for thinking that there may be serious distress over any considerable area, though undoubtedly hardship has been caused in isolated localities.

The Commissioner of Patna, after a tour of inspection in his Division, reported on the 17th instant that there is no apprehension of serious distress in the flooded tracts. Considerable areas in which the crops had been destroyed are being replanted, the public health is good, the condition of cattle is also good, and no relief works are at present necessary. In Champaran there was no loss of cattle from the floods. In the other districts of North Bihar the loss was inappreciable, the cattle having been removed in time to high lands.

3. The Commissioner of Chittagong reported on the 14th instant that prospects continue to improve; there are no authenticated cases of distress; transplanting of rice gives ample labour in the fields, and unskilled labour of coolies is not procurable at less than 5 annas a day. On the 21st he reported that there was no keen distress in Tippera and Noakhali requiring relief from Government at present.

4. In the Dacca Division there is a small tract, known as the bil country, in the Backergunge and Faridpur districts, with a population of about 40,000 persons, in which there is likely to be some scarcity, possibly even distress.

Here, in what have been described as "fantastic floating islands," splendid crops of aus and aman rice are reaped in years when the rise of the water is slow. Special long-stemmed kinds of aus and aman rice are sown together in March and April, and grow up in favourable years with the rise of the rivers in May and June—the aman rice with stems from five to seven yards in length. But if the water rise suddenly, as happened this year, before the seed can be sown, or so soon after that the seedlings are submerged, a complete failure of crops usually results. This is to a great extent what has taken place this year. But the tract happily does not rely for food on the rice crop alone. The supply of fish is inexhaustible, and part of the population being fishermen, food is procurable by them independently of their rice crops. The remainder of the population consists mostly of Christians, Mussalmans, and Namas. These have been accustomed to move elsewhere in search of labour; but as the aus crop is light, and as earthwork does not in these districts begin before December, these people, if not assisted, will be pinched, if not subjected to still greater distress.

To test the reality of the complaints of distress made last month in this tract, test relief works were opened, but nobody would work upon them at the wages prescribed in the Famine Code, and the complaints died away. They have been again raised, and Sir Antony MacDonnell has again ordered test relief works to be started. The District Officers are carefully watching for signs of distress, and have been instructed to make agricultural loans and to take such other measures as they may on personal enquiry find to be necessary.

In making agricultural loans care is necessary lest the amounts advanced are expended on payment of rent, and not in the support of the recipients.

5. Some loss of cattle by drowning and disease is reported from the Narainganj and Munshiganj subdivisions of Dacca, and from parts of Noakhali and Faridpur, but the disease is now abating everywhere excepting Noakhali, where the Commissioner reported on the 21st instant that it had reappeared. Want of fodder is felt in parts of Noakhali, Tippera, Dacca, and Faridpur, but the urgency of this want should diminish with every day that passes.

6. All experience points to the great improbability of anything like severe distress being caused by floods in limited areas in districts like Faridpur and Backergunge, which have hitherto been safe from famine, and are in fact among the granary districts of India. No doubt the excessive floods have caused much individual inconvenience and hardship; but the information before Government is satisfactory on the point that there is at present no such distress as need cause anxiety to the public, although in limited areas some temporary assistance may be necessary. It is only reasonable that such assistance should be afforded by the zamindars to their raiyats. But where the zamindars hold back and relief from public funds is necessary, the District Boards and local officers are in possession of the means necessary to meet any emergency that may arise.

ORDER.—Ordered that the foregoing Resolution be published for general information.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India for information, and copies be forwarded to the Commissioners of Patna, Chittagong, and Dacca for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—... indicates that no rain has fallen. If the return for any day has not been received, the corresponding space is left blank. If any of the returns are wanting, the corresponding spaces in the total rainfall columns are left blank. With reference to the column of rainy days, the definition of a rainy day is when at least 0·1 inches of rain has fallen.

CALCUTTA, the 26th September 1893.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 23RD OF SEPTEMBER 1893.

DURING the early part of the week the pressure distribution was fairly uniform, and comparatively fine calm weather prevailed, though interrupted in places by local storms, which caused showers of varying amounts. On the 17th, the first day of the week, there was excess in pressure of a tenth of an inch at most of the Bengal stations and in the north of the Bay, but in Burmah and Madras readings were more nearly normal. A fall of pressure began over the Bay, and continued during the whole week both over the Bay and the province, except at the eastern stations towards the end. The result of this steady fall was a depression, which formed in the north of the Bay, and after remaining shallow for some days, developed very rapidly as it approached the Orissa coast, and proved to be a disturbance of considerable severity, when it crossed the coast near Puri on Saturday, the last day of the week.

The first signs of the commencing depression were observable in the northerly winds at the Orissa stations, and the faint indraught across the east coast of the Bay on Monday, the 18th. Excepting the continued slow fall of pressure, and the more regular cyclonic circulation, there was very little change till the 20th, when the depression was better defined, but even then it was so diffused that its exact position, though nearer the west coast, was still doubtful. Gradients became steeper in the south-east of the Bay and winds strengthened, but velocity was never above 20 miles an hour at Diamond Island. The depression continued to drift slowly westward on the 21st, and on the 22nd it was near the South Orissa coast. Pressure fell more rapidly at the Orissa stations, and as it was then rising moderately in the east of the Bay and briskly in North Bengal and Assam, the disturbance was concentrating. Stormy weather rapidly developed, and when the centre of the depression crossed the coast near Puri on the morning of Saturday, gradients were very steep, and very strong winds prevailed over the south of Orissa and the adjacent part of the Bay. After crossing the coast the direction of motion was more northerly, and the track of the centre was never far from the western boundary of the province, till the disturbance broke up amongst the hills a day or two afterwards.

During the last two days of the week rough rainy weather prevailed over the greater part of the province, but especially in Lower Bengal, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur.

Pressure from being a tenth of an inch above the normal at the beginning of the week fell steadily, but slowly, at all stations till the last two days, when the depression received a considerable addition of power from the brisk increase of pressure in North-East Bengal, while it was falling near the centre of disturbance. Changes were above a tenth of an inch only on the last day of the week, while the area of lowest pressure was crossing Orissa, and these larger changes were confined to the Orissa stations, varying from ·1 inch at Balasore to ·35 inch at Cuttack. Defect was then half an inch at Cuttack, but gradients being very steep near the centre, the difference from the normal diminished rapidly towards the north, and was less than a tenth of an inch at most of the stations in South-West Bengal and Chota Nagpur. The mean difference from the normal for the week varied from defect of 0·76 inch at Cuttack to excess of ·03 inch over the greater part of Bengal and Bihar.

Temperature—Has generally been below the normal, at times by several degrees, and means for the larger divisions are all relatively low. Defect in Assam is very slight, and in Lower Bengal about half a degree, but in the other districts it varies from 1° to more than 2.°

Rainfall—Was scattered and very irregular in amount, being due to local storms, till towards the end of the week, when the disturbance in the north of the Bay caused general cloudy weather with rain over the greater part of the province. In Bengal rather less than the normal amount has fallen, but in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and Bihar considerably more than the average was received. Excess in South Bihar is 0·6 inch, in Chota Nagpur nearly 1 inch, in North Bihar 1·69 inches, and in Orissa 1·89 inches. The rainfall on the whole has been more evenly distributed than is usually the case, as the falls at the various stations rarely differ much from 2 inches except in Orissa and in the Darjeeling Hills.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 23rd of September 1893:—
